Cocktail Shakers Plan To Have Another Round

World champion cocktail maker Enzo Antonetti will defend his title as a foremost mixologist next November.

Antonetti, barman at the Claridge Hotel in Buenos Aires, took the honors as first man with a swizzle stick away from Europe during a recent world contest in Edinburgh, Scotland where 57 representatives of 19 countries participated. His prize winning concoction was called "Mar del Plata."

The match attracted a lot of attention and sampling—so the International Bartenders Assn. decided it would be jolly good fun to have another round. So did the City of Buenos Aires who thinks it has several other top contenders. That's where the contest will be held.

Air Travelers Get Translators

Do Continental menus leave you bewildered?

Enophile Philip Harding of San Anselmo notes that TWA has an answer. The airline has prepared a free menu translator in four languages — Italian, Spanish, German and French.

It's fairly simple to order wine: Say vin in French, vino in Italian and Spanish, wein in German.

Cabbage is something else. The French call it choux, and in Italy it's verza. In Spain, repollo. German, kohl.

To get a menu translator, write TWA, Dept. 369, P.O. Box 1460, Grand Central Station, New York 10017.

Chinese Hint 'Volunteers' May Intervene In Viet Nam

A NEW LIFE AHEAD—Arthur E. Storhaug, former mayor of Larkspur, and his family discuss their impending move to Tanzania in East Africa, where Storhaug will be a lay missionary sponsored by the World Brotherhood Exchange. 274 YANKS KILLED SINCE EARLY 1961

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon lists 274 American servicemen killed in action in Viet Nam since Jan. 1, 1961.

In addition, 120 other American servicemen have died there as a result of accidents and causes unconnected with battle.

The wounded total stands officially at 1,752.

There are 14 Americans listed as missing and 12 as prisoners of the Communists.

More Air Strikes Appear In Offing

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist China hinted today that some of its "volunteers" might intervene in Communist North Viet Nam where a massive U.S.-South Vietnamese air attack dealt a heavy blow ot Communist Viet Cong sources of supply.

A Peking broadcast said military units stationed near Viet Nam, Formosa and Laos "pledged support with actual deeds" to the North Vietnamese. It did not mention direct intervention but the implication was there.

It quoted a number of "Korean volunteers" as condemning U. S. "aggression" and pledging support for a Chinese government statement it would "not stand idly by" if U.S. air attacks continue.

In Washington, a new U. S. policy in Viet Nam—going considerably beyond simple retaliation—appeared to be emerging today.

It appeared to foreshadow still more air strikes against targets in Communist North Viet Nam in an effort to turn the tide of the war.

U.S. actions and official statements over the past five days indicated an administration decision to conduct air raids in the north whenever it deems them appropriate.

LIMIT OFF

The administration appeared no longer to be limiting the United States to a rigid policy of "tit-for-tat" reprisal for specific Communist attacks on American forces.

American pilots who carried out yesterday's raid said they encountered only light opposition.

Maj. Robert F. Ronca of Norristown, Pa., and Capt. John B. Cutler of Washington, N.C., jet pilots who took part in the raids, said they went prepared to fight off Soviet-built MIG 17 jet fighters but met little more than rifle-firing troops in foxholes.

PLANE DOWN

Ronca, who shot down a Chinese Communist MIG 17 during the Korean War, declined to speculate why the North Vietnamese or Chinese Migs did not attack. He said they could have gotten to the strike area if they had wanted to.

North Viet Nam termed the American - South Vietnamese raids a "new, most serious war threat" but all indications were that attacks on military targets in the north were shaping up as a new American policy to counter increased North Vietnamese activities in South Viet Nam.

CHINESE TO HELP?—Communist China today said the military units near Viet Nam "pledged support with actual deeds" following bombings of North Viet Nam yesterday. The Chinese did not promise to send "volunteers" as they did in Korea, but indicated Chinese troops were undertaking to learn from the Viet Cong about the war. (UPI Maps)

Grape Festival Ross 'Rat Race?'

By JEFF GREER

Ross residents must have their say on whether the Sunny Hills Grape Festival is "a rat race" or a welcome guest in the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross Town Council members declared last night.

The council set for March 11 a public hearing on a joint application of Sunny Hills and the Art and Garden Center to hold the one-day charity bazaar at the center next October. The item was not on the council agenda, but came in for more than an hour's discussion.

At one point, Councilman Harry C. Scott Jr. branded the Grape Festival "a rat race." He later relented to say he would decide on its fate after seeing a written schedule of events.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott—who was absent last night—must be consulted on whether the Grape Festival should obtain a variance permit, or even whether it could qualify under restrictions in the community cultural district zoning which controls the art and garden center.

Art and Garden Center board members John G. Gilman and Dudley F. Miller, plus Sunny Hills president Mrs. Robert Kettenbach and board member Mrs. Edgar Lindner brought up the suddenly controversial issue in the "other business" portion of the council meeting.

Mrs. Kettenbach explained that the 66th Grape Festival cannot be held in San Anselmo because of construction in progress at the Sunny Hills Home.

The bazaar was held in Ross in the late 1940's, she pointed out.

"This would certainly be no greater problem than one day" of the annual Art and Garden Fair, Gilman argued. "We felt this is a very worthwhile organization and would bring new people to the Art and Garden Center, increasing interest in it."

He added that the center is faced with loss of its $15,000 annual county fair subvention in a few years and "any cultural activity has to make money."

"The Grape Festival is not a cultural event," declared Councilman Scott." "That is a rat race, John, and you know it.

Gilman and Mrs. Kettenbach said the proposed Grape Festival would not include the carnival

A FEW SCRATCHES

Survivor Freed In Bomb Rubble

QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Rescue crews today freed the last known survivor from the rubble of a bombed-out U.S. Army barracks. The enlisted man danced a jib and shouted to officers: "Now don't you tell me I need a shave."

The courageous GI, Sp. 4 Arthur G. Abendschien, 30 , of Deptford, N.J., had been buried in the debris for 35 hours and 35 minutes. But he showed little ill effects from the long ordeal.

"Where do you hurt?" a doctor asked. "Well, no place really," Abendschien said. "I have a few scratches here," he added, pointing to his chest. "I also have a few bruises on my knees."

The barracks was bombed Wednesday night by Communist Viet Cong suicide squads.

With Abendschien's rescue, officials abandoned hope of finding alive any of the 18 other Americans trapped in the wreckage. Troops began the grim task of tearing the remains of the barracks apart to retrieve the bodies.

Two bodies were recovered a short time after the blast. Twenty-two Americans escaped, but some received critical wounds.

Abendschien was trapped in a pocket of air formed by twisted steel beams and jagged chunks of concrete. A tunnel was punched into the wreckage when the New Jersey soldier cried for help.

Hope for saving Abendschien was almost lost early today

Steel Vote Withholding Is Charged

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Ballot counting in the hotly contested United Steelworkers Union (USW) election between I. W. Abel and incumbent David J. McDonald slowed to a snail's pace today amid charges that some big locals were withholding their vote count.

James P. Griffin of Youngstown, Ohio, McDonald's campaign manager, charged that results from the big Chicago and Canadian locals were being "purposely withheld."

"These guys should either put up or shut up," Griffin said. "And if they want to find out who is the president of this union they should announce the desires of their members."

While the charges mounted, Abel's margin was being shaved by McDonald as some of the larger locals reported returns. At one stage Abel had led by as much as 17,000 votes. But by early afternoon today this was reduced to just over 5,000 votes.

The winner of the bitterly-contested election may not be known until after an official count is made by the union's international tellers. That count begins Feb. 19. There also was a strong possibility that the outcome may be put to a test in the courts.

A tabulation by UPI of unofficial returns from last Tuesday's election had abel leading by a slim margin. With 21,901 of the union's 3,203 locals reporting it was: Abel 287,189; McDonald 281,933.

YEAR IN AFRICA

Former Mayor Set For Missionary Job

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Former Larkspur Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug will leave Monday for a year in the new country of Tanzania in East Africa as a missionary.

His wife, Esther, 17-year-old daughter Linda and 11-year-old son Thomas will accompany him. They will go to Arusha, on the slope of Mount Meru and just west of famed Mount Kilimanjaro.

"If you had asked me a year ago if I would want to go, I'd say you were crazy," Storhaug said yesterday. But now, he said, the entire family is enthusiastic.

Storhaug has been granted a year's leave of absence by Crown-Zellerbach Corp., where he is an accountant.

The trip is sponsored by the World Brotherhood Exchange, a group of lay Protestants, mostly Lutherans, who supply laymen to aid ministers in missionary work throughout the world.

Storhaug will use his training as an accountant to serve as treasurer for the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Tanzania.

He said churches supply about two-thirds of the schooling and hospital care in the East African country, and many are now aided by the government.

Part of his job will be to teach natives to take over his work when he leaves, he added. He said he has yet to learn any vernacular phrases, but said he expected to be able to get along with English.

"I've always felt when you're interested in something, you should do something about it," Storhaug said.

"When I first said we were going, my wife agreed immediately, but the children were not so happy," he recalled.

His oldest daughter, Sandra, 19, will stay behind until June to finish her course in dental assistant classes at College of Marin. She may then join the family in Africa.

Storhaug said he expects to travel through the Holy Land and Europe on his way to and from Africa. He said his wife has not yet been given a formal assignment in Africa, but has been trained in first aid and will probably do hospital work.

Thomas will go to school at the Kimboi School for missionary children about 150 miles south of Arusha. Linda will attend the Rift Valley Academy at Nairobi, Kenya, about 150 miles to the north. Thomas now attends Henry C. Hall School, while Linda is at Redwood High School. The family lives at 99 Dartmouth Drive, Larkspur.

Storhaug and his wife are both natives of North Dakota. The

Boy's Bomb Injures Him

A 15-year-old San Rafael boy suffered a foot wound and eye burns last night when a homemade bomb exploded, according to Marin General Hospital.

The victim was Steve Hill of 22 Ranch Road. He was reported in good condition today at the hospital.

According to the hospital report, the youth was working with a piece of pipe which exploded.

Unification In San Rafael Is Approved

The State Board of Education, meeting in San Francisco yesterday, unanimously approved proposed unification of Dixie Elementary School District with San Rafael high school and elementary school districts.

It will now be up to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization to schedule an election on the proposal.

The two school boards involved will meet jointly at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the curriculum laboratory at the Civic Center to discuss unification.

Choosing a date for an election is the primary purpose of the meeting, Supt. Dennie B. Willis of Dixie said.

Willis said the election may be held any time prior to July 1, 1966, according to an interpretation of the county counsel's office and the board of education. Willis said there is no earlier deadline because the unification move was started under the county plan requirement and the limits prescribed in a recent state law do not apply.

Limantour Spit Road Is Closed

Balboa Road at Inverness Park, which leads ot Limantour Spit, was closed again today.

Mrs. James W. Lockhart announced that a chain blocking the road went up at 10:30 a.m. and 10 cars bound for the Point Reyes National Seashore had already been turned away by noon.

The Lockharts, in a dispute with the National Park Service that began last summer, claim the road is a private one and visitors to the park have no right to use it.

A guard was posted at the chain today, letting only property owners pass, Mrs. Lockhart said.

Earthquake Recorded Off Mendocino Coast

BERKELEY (AP) — An earth quake of moderate force off California's Mendocino County coast was recorded at 2:51 a.m. today by the University of California seismograph.

Seismologist George Mitchell said the quake center was between 50 and 100 miles offshore about 300 miles north-northwest of Berkeley. He estimated the magnitude at 4.5 on the Richter scale.

Sheriff's Officers Watch Beaches For Teen Trouble

Marin County beach patrol of 20 sheriff's officers was deployed today in anticipation of a large turnout of teen-agers for the first day of a three-day weekend.

By noon there were 250 youths on the beach at Bolinas and another 250 at Stinson Beach, and car-loads were still pouring in. Deputies reported at noon that everything was quiet.

Last year there were fights and some drinking at the beginning of a three-day weekend.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson, in charge today, said the men—regular deputies—will work both in patrol cars and afoot. He said only eight men will work beaches tomorrow and Sunday, however, unless more are needed.

Also specially assigned to beach areas today were six California Highway Patrolmen.

Officers said the occasion, the earliest good weather in February coinciding with the long Lincoln's birthday weekend, usually results in an overflow of young people.

Last year, they said, about 3,000 turned out. Twenty-three off-duty deputies had to be rushed to supplement patrols when beer-drinking high school students became troublesome. Main action was at Stinson and Bolinas beaches.

Stinson Beach State Park officials said trash after the weekend filled 16 drums of 55-gallon capacity.

Officers this year emphasized they are not patrolling to "harass" the beach-goers, but rather to see that people enjoy themselves without causing damage or disrupting the pleasure of others.

Beaches being patrolled in addition to Stinson and Bolinas include Drake's McClure's and Dillon beaches.

Bid For Dock Settlement Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Association rejected a bid today for a complete settlement of the 33-day dock strike, but ordered longshoremen back to work tomorrow in all but two ports.

Representatives of the South Atlantic and West Gulf areas, primarily the ports at Miami and Galveston, rejected a proposal by federal mediators for settlement in their areas.

Minutes later, Thomas W. (Teddy) Gleason, president of

LBJ Says Goal Is Equal Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson said today his goal is to admit Negroes as "complete and equal members of American society."

The Chief Executive expressed the hope in paying homage to Abraham Lincoln at a White House lunch.

Marking the 156th anniversary of Lincoln's birth, Johnson said most of the legal barriers to equality are gone and the rest are going.

Appeal Planned For Girl's Slayer

WORLAND, Wyo. (UPI)—An appeal for reduction of a death sentence to life imprisonment for Andrew Pixley, 22, of Dallas, Ore., will be filed with the Supreme Court of Wyoming.

Pixley

Pixley's defense attorneys James Sperry of Worland and Robert Nufsmith of Jackson said they would file the appeal on behalf of the man condemned to die May 3 for the murder of Deborah McAuliffe, 12, of Maywood, Ill., in a Jackson, Wyo., hotel room Aug. 7.

He was sentenced after a three-day trial at Worland last week in which he pleaded guilty to murdering the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Robert McAuliffe of Maywood. The girl was raped, bludgeoned and strangled.

Pixley was also charged with first degree murder in the death of the victim's younger sister, 8-year-old Cynthia, but he is not scheduled to be tried for her death.

Pixley said after sentencing, and later again told his attorneys he did not wish to appeal—that he wanted to die in the gas chamber at the prison.

Nixon Says Viet Risk Is A Must

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Johnson should "make a command decision" to strike by air at North Viet Nam "as a definite policy and not solely as retribution," former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said yesterday.

Nixon

Neither Russia nor Red China is likely to intervene as a result of such strikes, but the situation demands the risk, Nixon said at a news conference.

"Time is not on our side," he said. "Red China is now a fourth-rate power but in five years it can be a first-rate force. Unless we stop the Communists in Viet Nam, a Korean-type war is inevitable."

America can't pull out or neutralize Viet Nam, Nixon said, although he added that is what the average American probably would favor.

"If America gives up on Viet Nam," Nixon said, "Asia will give up on America. And if that happens, Indonesia and possibly Japan and the Philippines may also fall to communism."

John L. Lewis Going Strong At 85

WASHINGTON (UPI)—To many Americans he was—and is—an almost legendary figure. To others he was a tyrant, an object of fear and hatred. His name? John Llewellyn Lewis.

Lewis

Lewis, whose mighty voice and righteous wrath dominated the American labor movement for half a century, celebrates his 85th birthday today with a rare day off.

The longtime president of the United Mine Workers of America and first president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations retired five years ago as head of the Mine Workers. But he still puts in five full days a week in his non-paying job as head of the unions's pension fund.

His absence from his office today appeared to be more to avoid his birthday than to celebrate it. Iewis dislikes the fuss of anniversaries.

Tidelands Oil Bids Run High

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Bids on Long Beach's tidelands oil field are "running ahead of our highest expectations," according to Gov. Brown.

He said yesterday that the bids "could produce an additional profit to the state of $75 million above the $1.5 billion already anticipated." Bids were received this week on 95 percent of the product of the East Wilmington field, estimated to hold more than $3 billion worth of oil and gas.

Oil experts say there are at least 1.2 billion barrels of recoverable oil there, lying partially under Long Beach business, residential and beach areas.

Maine produces 200 million cans of sardines a year.

Brown Backs Boxing Commissioner Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A proposal by Rep. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., to create a national boxing commissioner has received "full support" from Gov. Brown.

The governor, a long standing boxing foe, sent a telegram yesterday to Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champ Gene Tunney. Brown called for national action to regulate boxing and said "California has led the nation in its fight to clean up" the sport.

Cabinet Is Excited By Full Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski is bubbling over with enthusiasm for President John son's experiment in full - dress cabinet meetings.

Yesterday's meeting was "the most effective and exciting I have seen in the 16 months I have been in Washington," Gronouski said. "In that one session the Cabinet jelled as a working body.

"This kind of stimulation is just too good to be kept inside. The other Cabinet members felt the same — there was immense excitement among us after it was over."

President John F. Kennedy felt more could be accomplished through individual briefings with Cabinet members on particular problems. But Johnson favors meetings of the full 10 - man body.

"Everybody talked constructively about everyone's else's job," Gronouski said. "It was like a very active college seminar. The President wanted us to throw in our ideas about the other guy's area. You really got a feeling of what the government is all about."

"There was a brilliant briefing and discussion on Viet Nam" Gronouski said of the hour-and-and-40-minute session at the White House.

Gronouski said Johnson discussed the Cabinet concept again Thursday. "He wants us to make our own decisions and not call on him about every little question," the postmaster general related.

Selma Negro Chained To His Hospital Bed

SELAM, Ala. (AP) — The chaining of a Negro civil rights leader to his hospital bed after he was transferred from jail when he became ill brought a protest from the patient's doctor and the shackle was removed several hours later.

The Rev. James Bevel, serving a five-day term for contempt of court, was ordered moved to a hospital yesterday. Bevel, an associate of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was reported by Dr. E. A. Maddox to be suffering from a virus infection with a fever of 102 degrees.

Maddox said Bevel was chained to his bed with a leg shackle and a sheriff's deputy was posted as a guard outside the door.

The shackle was removed late last night after the Negro doctor made a written request to Sheriff James G. Clark. The doctor's request said Bevel needed rest and could not get it with his ankle chained to the bed.

There was no immediate comment from Clark concerning the incident.

Bevel was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50 last Monday during an adult voter registration march to the courthouse. He and other Negroes were charged with violating a state court injunction prohibiting courthouse demonstrations.

The right to vote campaign in Selma will be resumed Monday when the Dallas County Board of Registrars meets for the last time this month to register new voters.

King, who has led the civil rights struggle, left Selma yesterday to fill a speaking engagement but promised to return over the weekend.

Sir Winston's Estate Valued At $439,490

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill left an estate valued at 156,961 pounds — $439,490.80 — a report filed with his will in Probate Court said today.

He bequeathed one-third to his widow, Lady Clementine Churchill. The other two-thirds is to be divided equally among his children, actress Sarah Churchill, Mary Churchill Soames and journalist Randolph Churchill.

In addition the widow was left the copyrights on all her husband's literary works and the rights to all recordings of his speeches or extracts from his writings.

The recordings are high on the best-seller lists. Royalties on these and Churchill's books are certain to continue earning large sums.

Murphy Lashes Brown On Taxes

NEWPORT BEACH (UPI) — Sen George Murphy, R - Calif., Thursday described California as having an unhealthy industrial climate and laid the blame for the economic problem on Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Murphy told a banquet of the Orange County Coast Association that Gov. Brown was supporting taxes which have "discouraged" the establishment of new industries in California.

"The new industries which we need to replace the cutback in defense spending have been discouraged by an unattractive tax structure in our state," Murphy said.

DRAMA REVIEW

Kudos For 'Cuckoo' But Work Is Needed

By KARL BARRON

Several cuckoos in several nests make up the plot of Arthur Laurents' Broadway hit, "The Time of the Cuckoo." As presented last night by an uneven cast of Ross Valley Players at the Barn, it had moments of comedy (which it is billed as) and moments of very serious drama.

The sum, under John Brebner's direction, did not completely hold together, but may jell with further performing. It'll be repeated tonight and tomorrow, then on Feb. 18, 19, 20, 26 and 27. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Rita Knox as Leona Samish, spinster secretary on vacation in Venice, and Hal Fenton as Renato Di Rossi, a romantically inclined (and married) Venetian shopkeeper, sparked the show to life after a slow start.

In a beautifully designed set by Alan Atkins, the Knox-Fenton duo loves, fights and generally wins the hearts of the audience. Mrs. Knox floats through brittle comedy, then hits the solar plexus with deep emotion, while Fenton plays Di Rossi with complete sincerity. This is an achievement, for the part can well end up as a heel with inexpert playing.

Supporting them with excellent performances are Sara Davis as a full-blown Italian widow (and a cuckoo) and Lillian Fenton as Giovanna, the servant girl who speaks no English, but is hilarious on almost all of her entrances and exits.

The secondary plot, a husband and wife with universal problems well delineated by Laurents, never got off the ground due to wooden performances by Alma Dinsmore and Jean Wegner. They simply were not with it. Mr. Wegner almost made it in the second scene, devoted to nursing a hangover, but slipped back to "niente."

Others in the cast included James Dinsmore, a passable young Italian boy, and Bill Adams, who did not live up to expectations aroused from stirring portrayal in last year's "The World We Live In" by the Junior Theater.

Topping it off with two neat caricatures of American tourists were Irene Pritzker and Larry Allen.

Bill Carter's lighting design enhanced the set, which again deserves a kudo. This is the second set we've seen by Mr. Atkins which shows tremendous imagination within the severe limitations of the Barn.

To sum up, community theater, such as the Ross Valley Players, is basically devoted to reviving old Broadway plays. There's nothing wrong with this, but it carries in it an inherent booby trap.

On Broadway, competent actors are paid to set the scene for the stars, and these actors are fully capable of carrying the audience with them. Community theater, with limitations in the talent it can put forth, must always have a play which starts with the house burning down, or it's a long hard struggle up from the cellar.

Car Shears Pole, Cutting Off Power

A car skidded off the road and sheared off a utility pole near Inverness yesterday, cutting off electricity for more than nine hours to the community and much of the Point Reyes Peninsula.

Vernon C. Watters, 19, of Portola Drive, Point Reyes Station, was driving west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard when his car went off the road and slashed through the pole about a mile east of Inverness Way.

The top of the pole hung from lines which dangled across the road, blocking it for a time, highway patrolmen reported. A 12-foot mid-section of the pole was cut off at the ground by the car, which then skidded into a ditch.

Watters was uninjured but was cited by highway patrol for speeding.

Electricity was off in the area from the accident time of 12:05 p.m. to about 9:30 p.m.

William Bendix was married 37 years.

State Department Shakeup Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today a high - level shakeup at the State Department with Averell Harriman to be replaced by Johnson's old friend, Thomas C. Mann, in the No. 3 post.

Mann, now assistant secretary for inter-American affairs, will become undersecretary for economic affairs. Harriman, who has held this undersecretaryship, will become an ambassador-at-large.

Succeeding Mann in the inter-American assignment will be Jack Hood Vaughn, now ambassador to Panama.

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, announced Johnson's plans to nominate the three officials for the new assignments. He reported that the shifts were prompted by a Harriman request to be relieved of administrative burdens.

Reedy said Harriman, an old-time New Dealer and former Democratic governor of New York, "will handle specific high-level assignments in the department and abroad." He did not elaborate.

Fire District Praised By Chief

Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr. of Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection District today praised residents for being "very fire conscious" as he cited in his 1964 report showing fire damages were $4,213 last year as compared to $17,200 in 1963.

"Even with a good fire prevention inspection, it still takes cooperation of the public to prevent fires," he said. He added that 83 days have passed since a fire occurred in the district.

The department, which covers 1,150 homes and 713 apartments, answered 79 calls in 1964 as compared to 54 in 1963. Eleven were home and contents fires, 13 vehicles, and 21 grass and brush.

The department answered 19 resusciation and first aid calls. Two firemen were slightly injured in 1964.

Woman Is Charged In Hit-Run Case

Mrs. Margaret L. Aylwin, 41, of 60 Wellington Avenue, Ross, was charged with hit-run driving by the California Highway Patrol after the car she was driving allegedly struck a parked auto Wednesday.

Mrs. Aylwin was driving north on Kent Avenue in Kentfield at 9:45 p.m. when her car allegedly struck one owned by Clayton Stocking, 318 Kent Avenue, parked near Bridge Street. Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Aylwin did not stop after the accident.

Bridge Directors Authorize New Toll Booth Planning

Golden Gate Bridge District directors yesterday authorized the general manager to begin preparing plans for new toll booths and toll recording equipment.

The directors also voted to increase the group life insurance coverage of employees from $2,500 to $7,500.

The toll plaza's Roundhouse Restaurant came in for some criticism from Director Ben K. Lerer of San Francisco.

He said the food there leaves much to be desired and is a reflection on the bridge. When the present lease to restaurant operator Ben Stacy of Oakland expires on June 30, Lerer said every effort should be made to attract bids from other prospective operators.

Lerer also asked General Manager James Adam to look into the possibility that liquor can be served at the restaurant. Since the restaurant is on Presidio land, military approval is needed.

Trouble In Asia Delays Pope's Plans

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI was reported today so concerned by the international situation, particularly in Southeast Asia, that he is delaying his decision whether to visit the Dominican Republic next month.

He has been considering an invitation from the Caribbean island nation to attend a congress there on the Virgin Mary March 18 to March 25.

Novato Mayor Is Injured In Mississippi Wreck

Novato Mayor Robert D. Carrow was in a Mississippi hospital today for treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile accident last night.

Carrow and Joseph A. Forest of Terra Linda went to Mississippi as lawyer volunteers to take depositions in the challenge to seating of five Mississippi congressmen on the contention that Negroes were deprived of their right to vote in last November's election. They were scheduled to return home tomorrow.

Last night they were driving on the Natchez Trace near Kosciusko, Miss., when their car ran off the road, Forest reported. Carrow suffered cuts on the head and bruises on one leg. Forest was uninjured.

Carrow was taken to Montford Jones Memorial Hospital in Kosciusko. He was expected to be released late today or tomorrow, his wife reported.

Carrow lives at 1108 Ruhlman Lane, Novato; Forest, at 389 Hyacinth Way, Terra Linda.

Six Fire District Filing Close

Filings for commissioner in six fire district elections in Marin closed yesterday, leaving the Tiburon Fire District the only one with a contest.

In Stinson Beach Fire District no candidate filed at all, and the Marin County Board of Supervisors will have to name someone to replace Thomas Tawns, whose term expires.

In Tiburon, the two incumbents, Francis J. Ryan and Raymond Lynch, will be opposed by James P. Jenkins of 1731 Mar West Street, who filed just prior to yesterday's noon deadline. He is manager of Standard 5-10-25 Cent Store on the Boardwalk.

Filings in a seventh district, the Novato Fire District, will not close until Feb. 25. There, Kenneth L. Roche has filed and incumbent Joseph Wright has not.

Novato and Alto-Richardson Bay district will hold elections April 20. Other elections will be April 6.

Incumbent Leonard A. Lewis has filed for the Alto-Richardson Bay board, incumbent James Dougan has filed in the Bolinas district, incumbent Joseph L. Smith has filed in the Kentfield district, and incumbents Donald J. Taylor and Carl H. Modell have filed in the Tamalpais district.

the AFL-CIO union, said he had ordered longshoremen back to work in all other Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports where agreements already had been reached.

The shippers accepted the federal mediators' proposal, which called for an over-all back-to-work movement while negotiations continued under a mediator appointed by the presidential panel.

Ralph A. Massey, president of the International Longshoremen's Association's South Atlantic and Gulf Coast District, said the longshoremen agreed to continue negotiations but would not end their strike.

The response came only minutes before the noon deadline set by Johnson for a report on the last-ditch effort to mediate the strike.

The terms had been presented to the principals in the dockside dispute just over an hour earlier.

The recommendations involve unsettled problems in South Atlantic and Gulf ports, principally Miami and Galveston.

In the Gulf dispute, the panel called for an immediate return to work while all remaining issues in the dispute are submitted to a mediator. If no settlement is reached within 30 days, those issues would be submitted to binding arbitration.

Lanes On Bridge Exceed Capacity

The Golden Gate Bridge has exceeded the traffic lane capacity figured out by the engineers who built it 28 years ago.

Gen. Mgr. James Adam told bridge district directors yesterday the estimate was that each lane could accommodate 1,350 cars an hour. He said that between 7 and 8 a.m. on Feb. 1 the four toll lanes in use handled an average of 1,482 cars.

The average for the next hour was 1,351, still above the estimate.

'Pressure' Stealing Reported

A 15-year-old Sausalito boy, who said someone had "pressured him to steal," was arrested in a Corte Madera store yesterday with a "shoplifting list."

Police were told that the youth had been living at a Sausalito firehouse. However, Asst-Fire Chief Frank Christ Jr. denied this today saying the boy was a frequent visitor at the firehouse, but was living at home.

Corte Madera police said the boy had just picked up a can of spray enamel at Thrifty Drug Store when he was arrested yesterday.

He had a list, not in his own handwriting, which included such items as an AM-FM radio, a girl's bicycle, binoculars, assorted tools and liquor.

The boy refused to say who had given him the list, but told police that pressure had been put on him by someone else to force him to steal.

Police sent the boy to Marin County Juvenile Hall, hoping that he could be persuaded to talk. However, the youth was not to be interviewed until 4 p.m. today when he meets his parents and a probation officer, according to Thomas Estes, duty officer at the juvenile hall.

that has been one of its features at Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

They said the traffic problem could be solved by using College of Marin parking facilities with a shuttle bus to the center. Last year's Grape Festival attendance was estimated at 5,000, compared to 9,000 persons on the best day of the annual fair in Ross, they reported.

"The fair itself is a borderline case" as to conformity with cultural district code, Scott declared.

"What we're all worried about is a big disturbance to the community," stressed Councilman William Peter McAndrew.

"It is our intention to conduct as genteel a charitable bazaar as possible," said Mrs. Kettenbach. "I would think that resorting to a large town meeting might be appropriate if you were indulging us for all time—but we are only asking for one day."

"I think it needs a little more publicity, so we can hear from the community before we decide," Mayor Allen concluded.

24 Rescued Near Burning Pacific Ship

HONOLULU (AP) — Twenty four persons — one a woman — were rescued today after they abandoned the fiercely burning Danish freighter Margit, afire from an engine explosion.

The Navy cargo vessel Greenville Victory, radioing from 400 miles west of Johnston Island, said:

"Have picked up 23 men and one woman. Searching for others."

The 4,967-ton Margit, carrying flour, asbestos and cast iron from San Francisco and Los Angeles for Calcutta, India, sent out an SOS last night asking for immediate assistance, saying she was afire from an engine explosion.

Planes found the ship's personnel in two lifeboats.

was the Viet Cong terrorist attack on a U.S. Army barracks at Qui Nhon Wednesday night which apparently killed 22 Americans.

The increased Communist activities took a least 36 American lives this week — higher than any single month of the war. December had been the bloodiest month so far but beginning with the Viet Cong attack on Pleiku Sunday 36 Americans have been killed and 275 wounded. Another was missing.

What action if any the Soviet Union would take in Southeast Asia remained to be seen. Communist newspapers in Moscow warned the United States it would "not go unpunished" for the air raids but they made no specific threats.

Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin in a speech in Pyongyang, capital of North Korea, said only the "imperialist provications have brought the people of Asian socialist countries still closer together."

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, the mastermind of the guerrilla fighting in South Viet Nam and Laos, spoke of the "warlike unity of the brotherly nations."

The North Vietnamese high command broadcast a message to its guerrillas in South Viet Nam to "constantly deepen your hatred for the enemy."

Peking said the units which pledged deeds were stationed near Viet Nam, Formosa and Hong Kong. It boasted "We have both men and grain to support the Vietnamese people in counter-attacking U.S. imperialist aggressors."

There were similar threats before the Chinese Communists intervened in Korea in 1950.

In Saigon the evacuation of American dependents continued. A U.S. military spokesman said 398 dependents left today and that 340 would leave Saturday under President Johnson's order to clear the decks for action.

Saigon's politics remained unsettled, with politicians and military leaders bickering over formation of a new government. There were reports of increasing dissension among younger officers in the field.

In the war itself only comparatively minor fighting was reported.

The bodies of three U.S. Army advisers killed in the Duc Phong fighting were recovered Thursday night and reliable sources said they may have been brutally beaten to death by the Viet Cong.

when he drifted exhausted into a deep sleep.

A comrade crawled into the tunnel and threw a container of warm coffee on the trapped man's face.

Abendschien suffered a three-inch gash on the back of his head when the ceiling of the barracks building collapsed, but the wound became clogged with bits of plaster and concrete dust which prevented heavy loss of blood.

U.S. officers said Abendschien was believed to have wounded two guerrillas in the bombing force before the blast destroyed the building. He was trapped when he went back to his quarters for more ammunition.

Thant Appeals For Solution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Secretary General Thant today appealed to the United States and the Vietnamese not to take any new steps that might lead to an escalation of the war in Viet Nam.

Thant did not call for a meeting of the Security Council, although under the U.N. Charter he has the power to do so.

But he said a solution to the crisis "must be found and found urgently," and indicated he seeks an international conference to restore peace to Viet Nam.

Washburn Fails To Show For Plaque

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce officials weren't able to give a plaque to former secretary-manager George C. Washburn last night at the chamber's annual installation dinner.

Washburn, who was ousted from his post Jan. 14 after 13 years on the job, had been scheduled to receive the appreciation award, but was in San Jose and unable to attend the dinner, according to Max S. Martin, new secretary of the chamber.

Otherwise, the event attended by 127 chamber members and guests at the Meadow Club near Fairfax went as such dinners usually do.

Outgoing President Richard A. Kientz gave a month-by-month review of 1964 chamber activities, and introduced his successor, William A. Trewhella.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, guest speaker, paid high tribute to San Anselmo resident and former supervisor William D. Fusselman, whom he defeated in the November election:

"You people don't realize the amount of work and the good things Bill Fusselman did for you. Little did I realize how much work the board of supervisors entails," Kettenhoffen reported, according to Martin.

Certificates for civic pride in downtown improvements were presented to owners of the M and B Florist shop on San Anselmo Avenue and Jack's Drug Store on Tunstead Avenue. Certificates also were presented to Kientz and to Abe Forman, last year's merchants committee chairman, and outgoing board member William Torrance.

Household Goods Are Stolen

The home of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Bergquist in Mill Valley was looted of about $800 worth of household goods in daylight hours yesterday.

Loot included stereo epuipment valued at between $500 and $600 and a television set worth $175, plus several ski sweaters, some inexpensive jewelry and $7 in cash, Mill Valley police reported.

There was no sign of forced entry, police said, at the home at 268 Eldridge Avenue.

Laurie Bergquist, Mrs. Bergquist's daughter, discovered the burglary on return home from school at about 4:30 p.m. entry was made sometime after 8:30 a.m. police said.

30 Bombers Fly Over Bay Area

More than 30 B52 heavy bombers flew over the San Francisco Bay Area yesterday, headed northwest.

Accompanying them were KC135 tanker jets which can refuel the bib bombers in flight.

Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha confirmed that the big planes were in an operational exercise but said specific details are classified.

Hamilton Air Force Base issued a public information alert that there would be "increased air activity over California and other western states" starting at an undisclosed hour last night.

A Hamilton spokesman, asked if this tied in with the B52s, said "SAC units are taking part."

$1,600 In Gems Reported Stolen

Loss of $1,600 worth of jewelry, clothing and other items in a burglary of the L. J. Munger residence at 65 Redhill Circle in Tiburon was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Deputies said no evidence of forced entry to the two-story apartment was found. Intruders, probably using an unlocked sliding glass door, also took a television set, a gold watch, golf clubs, stereo albums, and three cameras.

The theft was discovered by Munger last Monday.

'Suspicious' Cars Lead To Bookings

A 44-year-old man was held in county jail today for alleged possession of a narcotics kit.

Philip Long, San Francisco, was booked by Sheriff's Deputy Martin J. Conlin at 10 a.m. after the officer said a search of Long's belongings disclosed a kit containing a hypodermic needle and other narcotic-injection items.

The deputy said he saw a car driven in the Terra Linda area in suspicious manner by Nathaniel Hutcherson, 34, also of San Francisco. He said a check disclosed Hutcherson was wanted in Southern California for failure to appear in court. Long, a passenger, consented to search of a bag in which officers found the kit, Conlin said.

Bail was not immediately set for Long. A "hold" was placed on Hutcherson for Southern California.

Richard Atkins of San Francisco, a customer in the store, chased the man through the brush to H. and H. Garage at Gate 3 road and lost him.

Airliner Wreckage Discovered

NEW YORK (AP) — A mass of twisted metal lying under 75 feet of murky water apparently holds the key today to why an Eastern Air Lines plane dived into the Atlantic Monday night, killing all 84 aboard.

Salvage crews hope to shed some light on the airliner's fate today as they try to bring to the surface the tangle of aircraft wreckage that appears to be the remains of Flight 663.

The underwater debris was discovered yesterday 6.7 miles south-southeast of Jones Inlet, near the point where the airliner was believed to have hit the sea.

There was some indication that the ill-fated, propeller-driven DC7B might have had a "close miss" with an incoming jetliner seconds before the crash.

"We had a close miss here," said one pilot of the jetliner with 102 persons aboard, his voice captured on tape at Kennedy Airport's control tower.

Another said: "He was well over the top of us — he was well over the top of us and it looked like he went into an absolute vertical turn and kept rolling."

However the Federal Aviation Agency warned against drawing conclusions from the tape.

"The vital question," said Regional Director Oscar Bakke, "is whether the Eastern plane was already in trouble when the apparent near miss occurred."

Nation Is Hammered By Storms, Tornadoes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Storms carrying tornadoes and blizzards hammered much of the nation today, leaving in their wake extensive damage, flooding, paralyzing snow depths and ice-clogged rivers.

Three Alabama traffic deaths were attributed to deluges of rain spawned by tornadoes which struck across the South from Texas to Alabama. At least 17 persons were injured by the storms.

A crippling blizzard struck eastern Nebraska and western Iowa. Omaha struggled out from under 1½ feet of snow and downtown Lincoln, Neb., lay under 20 inches of snow — perhaps the heaviest snow in history for that city.

Residents were alerted for flash flooding in the wake of heavy rains in western Tennessee.

Many other Lower Mississippi and Ohio Valley towns were hit by thunderstorms which produced more than 1 inch of rain.

The snowstorm which struck Nebraska yesterday began moving toward northwestern Iowa today. Twenty inches of snow fell in Fairbury, 19 at Offutt Air Force Base south of Omaha and 16 at Lincoln Air Force Base.

The storms came from Texas, then rushed on into Louisiana where two persons were injured. The storms then moved on to Mississippi and Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Wolf Creek Pass in southern Colorado lay under 120 inches of snow, Crested Butte 106 inches and Hidden Valley 96 inches.

His '65 Ford rides quieter....than his Rolls-Royce

Tests proved it.*
Does this mean Ford now rivals one of the world's most wanted luxury cars? Hardly! Rolls-Royce is in a world apart. But these tests do mean plenty—to you—if you're shopping for a car in the popular-priced field.

When a Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce, you know Ford has outstanding strength, design, quality. Come take a no-obligation test drive. Compare Ford, in every way, with everything in its class:

Feel Ford's solid quality
■ 100% new body—strongest ever on a Ford.
■ New frame "tunes out" vibration.
■ New suspension puts a big ultrasoft coil spring at each wheel.

Inspect Ford's luxurious new LTD models
■ Decorator-styled interiors, nylon carpeting.
■ Ten courtesy lights, five ash trays (4-door hardtops), rear-seat center arm rests, padded instrument panel.
■ Elegant nylon and vinyl upholstery fabrics—treated with Scotchgard® to resist soiling, pleated for luxury appearance.
■ Walnutlike vinyl inserts on doors and instrument panel.

Relax in Ford's spacious interiors
■ Swept-back instrument panel adds 5 inches extra knee room.
■ Transmission hump lower—extra foot room.
■ Curved side glass for extra shoulder room.
■ More luggage space than in major competitors' cars—trunk holds four 2-suiters standing upright, with room left over.
■ Heater, windshield wiper motors not in passenger area as in some competing cars.

Test Ford's new power
■ Big, new 289-cu. in. V-8 standard in XL's and LTD's.
■ Thrifty, quiet new Big Six—a hefty 240 cu. in.—the biggest Six offered by any car.
■ All automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in some competing cars—smoother shifting, more economy.

Try Ford's special conveniences
■ Safety-Convenience control panel (optional). Locks all doors with flick of switch. Lights warn if fuel's low, doors are ajar, remind you to fasten seat belts. Button sets your exterior lights flashing to warn other cars during emergency roadside stops.
■ Silent-Flo ventilation system (in 4-door hardtops). Special rear vents provide fresh air—even with all windows shut.
■ Optional Swing-Away steering wheel eases entry, exit.
■ Handy reversible keys work with either side up.
■ Convenient keyless door locking system.

The list is much longer. But no list will tell you as much as a short test drive. See your Ford Dealer soon. ® TM 3M CO.

*Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines and automatic transmissions rode quieter than a new Rolls-Royce. Tests were certified by the U.S. Auto Club.

Best year yet to go Ford!

May I Help You?

You know, for many years, as a public official, I have been helping people who wished me to assist them—so this new position with the Tiburon National Bank will be a most pleasant one, especially as Mr. Tijerina, the Bank's President, said to me, "Bill, although you will be on the Bank's payroll, I want you to consider yourself as working with and for our clients."

Many folks have sent in word that they wished to come in when I was on the job. Well, I have spent the month of January recuperating more after my weeks in the hospital. My desk is at the Greenbrae-Kentfield Branch—917 Sir Francis Drake—on the west side opposite Ash Avenue—Telephone 456-9464. Just phone in and if I am out tell the secretary when you wish to come in. I will be there to greet you. It's a nice office. You will like it.

I am looking forward to seeing you soon.

Cordially,

Bill Fuenfhausen

P.S.
If you are down Tiburon way, come into the Main Bank and say hello. Tell them I asked you to. It's a real treat to behold.

Braden Says Board Members Followed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Thomas W. Braden, president of the Board of Education charged yesterday that he and other board members have been followed.

He said he first realized this when he got "a feeling" learned during his career with the Central Intelligence Agency.

His statement came while commenting on his dispute with Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, over use of Rafferty's three full-time investigators.

Rafferty, who has carried on a running feud with Braden for the past three years, commented "if Mr. Braden thinks investigators have been breathing down his neck, they are figments of his imagination."

"There's some sort of a medical term to describe people who think they are being followed," Rafferty added. "If anything is following Mr. Braden, it may be his bad conscience. He has tried to interfere with my work and frustrate in every way my efforts to help the children of California."

Braden did not specify who might be following him. He said that he and other board members "have been followed and investigate by somebody, but I don't know who."

Rafferty's investigators are employed primarily to look into charges against teachers accused of misbehavior. They are responsible to Rafferty's deputy, Everett Calvert, with whom the board has often been at odds. Calvert is Rafferty's personal appointee in a post exempt from civil service.

Braden argued that the investigative work of the Department of Edcuation should be handled by the professionals of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification, and not by Rafferty's staff men.

Ross Youth Hurt In Cycle Crash

Patrick G. Tobin, 18, of Ross was in Marin General Hospital today with head injuries and facial cuts suffered when his motorcycle overturned at 8:55 p.m. yesterday.

Tobin, who resides on Shady Lane Road, failed to negotiate a right-angle turn on Fifer Avenue, which runs under Highway 101 near Lucky Drive, the California Highway Patrol reported.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson named Dr. Stanley A. Cain of the University of Michigan yesterday to be assistant secretary of the interior for fish and wildlife.

Cain was chairman of the Michigan Department of Conservation in 1963-64, is now a trustee of the National Parks Association, and has been in the Interior Department's advisory boards for national parks and for wildlife and game management.

Others In Home When Heir Died?

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — One or two people may have been with Eugene McDonald when the young multimillionaire died, a coroner's jury investigating his death was told yesterday.

The mystery became deeper as the inquest was recessed for the second time, now until next Thursday.

Investigators disclosed that the equivalent of 175 marijuana cigarettes was found in the $50,000 home which McDonald rented while attending University of Arizona.

A jar containing the marijuana was found under the mattress of a guest bedroom Wednesday night, a week after McDonald was found shot in the back of the head and his wrists slashed.

Although McDonald clutched the weapon believed used, Dr. Joseph Beeman of the Tucson Veterans Hospital said it appears another person may have held the pistol and even could have pointed it at McDonald.

No weapon has been found to account for slashes on both wrists of the 23-year-old Zenith Radio Corp. heir.

"We're sure someone else was in that house at the time of the death or almost immediately afterward," County Atty. Norman E. Green said.

Data Processing Center Approved

Marin Junior College District trustees last night agreed to establishment of a data processing center for the county's schools at College of Marin.

The board yielded to a plea by Weaver Meadows, chairman of the college's business-economics division. Last week, he was sent back for more specifics —particularly as to housing for the center's big IBM 1440 computer.

Last night Weaver presented a proposal to locate the center in an 80-by-32 foot portable building just north of the football field. The building would be leased, with half the cost to be paid by the county schools office, which would also rent the computer and operate the data processing center. The college would have use of the computer for training students.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy made the motion to start the center, to be used by school districts throughout Marin County. The vote of approval was unanimous.

Meadows breathed a sigh of relief and admitted he had already made a tentative order for delivery of the 1440 computer.

"Where were you going to put it if we didn't go along?" chuckled Mrs. Deedy. "I think he would have had to join the Navy."

Meadows said school officials throughout the county are "very, very unhappy" with the county's present data processing center at the Civic Center.

"They're not getting the kind of service they want and think they are entitled to. They want us to take over," he claimed.

He said a recent study by Tamalpais High School District showed it is not economically feasible for that district to set up its own data processing center, and would not be feasible even for a unified Tamalpais district to do so.

The board received, but took no action on, a request for salary increases for administrators at the college. The report showed that starting pay for deans at college of Marin is next to the lowest among colleges in the Bay Area and top salaries are the lowest.

The request was for a new starting pay for deans of $15,000, up from $13,651, and for a top pay of $17,000, up from $15,151, with a $500 addition for receipt of a doctorate. For assistant deans the pay should start at $13,500, up from $12,411, and go to $15,500, from $13,911 top pay, also with $500 extra for a doctorate.

A salary schedule ranging from $12,000 to $14,000 for coordinators was also suggested, although this position's functions were undefined.

The board received an enrollment report for the spring semester, showing 1,875 day students; 1,158 night students and 488 taking both day and night classes, an increase of about 400 over last spring. The report showed 1,441 fulltime, 1,884 parttime and 1,637 special students for a total enrollment of 3,521.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

1. Heard a plea from Mrs. Deedy for new state action allowing more flexibility in graduation requirements, so a junior college could experiment with honors programs, credit by examination and advanced placement.

2. Heard a report on the work-study program, now to be largely supported by a federal grant, with the new information that more than 20 students have applied for jobs and that faculty members are eager to assign needy students to jobs.

College Gets Two More U.S. Grants

Two new federal grants to the College of Marin have been approved under the Vocational Education Act.

One, for $27,966, will pay for the college's participation in the data processing center to be established at the College in Kentfield. The federal money will be matched by $33,731 locally, but payments by school districts for use of the computers will offset much of that.

The other grant is for $3,706.25 for a secretarial training laboratory. The college will match this grant with $4,380 in local funds.

In both cases the grants are predicated on the equipment being used for instruction, including programs for retraining persons hit by automation.

The data processing grant covers cost for the 1620 computer now being used, and actually had been requested earlier by the college, when the equipment was installed. The new equipment, an IBM 1440 computer, to be ready for classes in September, is expected to be covered by still another federal grant under the same program, according to William J. Collins, coordinator of vocational education.

NEW ENSIGN — Russell B. Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Murray of Winding Way, Ross, is Ensign Murray now. He graduated last month from the Coast Guard Officers Candidate School, Yorktown, Va.

Prisoner Escapes From Work Crew

A 39-year-old San Quentin prisoner escaped from a work crew in Armstrong Grove near Guerneville, Sonoma County, yesterday and was last traced to Santa Rosa.

The escapee, Joseph Anthony Carreon, who was stationed at the prison's Black Mountain conservation camp near Cazadero, is still missing, according to John Phillips, supervising counselor at the prison.

Carreon walked away from the work crew shortly before noon. The Sonoma County sheriff's office reported that he walked to Guerneville, took a taxi to Cotati, and there hired a second taxi to Santa Rosa. He has not been seen since.

Carreon, who was convicted of first degree burglary in San Diego County last April, was serving a five-year-to-life term, according to James W. L. Park, associate warden. He also was serving a six-month to five-year sentence for carrying a blackjack.

Before the 19th Century, British soldiers saluted by tipping their hats, a custom dating back to Roman times when partial disrobing was considered a mark of respect.

Brown Budget 'Phase Two' Gains Seen

SACRAMENTO (AP)—State Finance Director Hale Champion predicted today the legislature will consider many of Gov. Brown's optional "Phase Two" budget programs during the session.

Champion's forecast came in answer to statements from two legislative leaders that the phase two program would be shoved into the background until priority and regular budget items are handled.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, and Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said the second section of the governor's proposals will not be discussed until education, fiscal matters, and reapportionment are solved.

Both Unruh and Burns said they doubted if a proposed salary increase in a Phase II proposal would receive much consideration this session.

Burns went even further when he said, "The entire phase two budget program must take second place in our consideration and it might have to wait until next session."

To this Champion replied:

"I feel certain there will be a good opportunity during the regular session to consider the phase two program. Perhaps Sen. Burns was expressing only his personal opinion on this matter."

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

It's Impossible To Get Secret Out Of Hector At Joe's Dinery

My wife likes the way Hector Rubini, Guido Farina and the kitchen staff cook the vegetables at San Rafael Joe's. They are fresh tasting and there are plenty of them in several varieties.

She is still trying to talk Hector out of what she thinks must be a well-guarded recipe secret. But he passes the whole thing off with a shrug, as though to say, "What's so surprising about it? A little olive oil—any good Italian cook should be able to do the same."

Peace, wife, I'll settle for your Irish meat loaf any time you feel like fixing it.

Me? I like the steaks at Joe's. From sirloins up to culottes; the whole range. They're all good meat. And the salads are crisp and tasty.

When you come right down to it, those three things plus potatoes go a long way toward satisfying quite a number of diners. About 50 per cent of the trade, I'd say. My wife and I shy away from potatoes as a rule—she does anyway. I give in easier, particularly at Joe's.

If Hector and Guido didn't have a Joe's in San Rafael, it's a cinch someone else would have established one by now.

CASA LINDA Mexican restaurant on the Miracle Mile, San Rafael, closed now for more than two months, will open again in a few days.

Phyllis Mendoza has done some redecorating: new paint and carpeting. She says she wanted to spend more time at her San Francisco restaurant over the holidays and so delayed reopening until she could restaff the place and have everything the way she wanted it.

She'll probably be back in business by Sunday or Monday, with a more official "grand opening" next Friday. Hours will be about the same as before, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. for lunches and dinners. And instead of being open seven days a week Casa Linda may close one day.

But, says Senora Mendoza, many other things will be different. Men waiters, new decor and a "first class operation." No troubadours, but the patio will likely be in use this summer for outdoor dining.

IT'S POSSIBLE you'll see a familiar face in the Mai Tai Room at Lin Fa Gardens in the Northgate Shopping Center these days. It's Sandy Sandoval, who is still at Pandora, San Anselmo, on weekends mixing drinks, but frequently helps Ethel Barrie and Walter Choy during the week.

Lin Fa has become quite a convening place for organists, amateurs and professionals alike, with at least two affairs scheduled this month. Good reason. Lee Lees who plays there is one of the most highly regarded members of the profession.

LE VIVOIR in the Casa Madrona Hotel, Sausalito, reopened this week after its annual cleaning and redecorating holiday. Usual hours: Open Tuesdays through Saturdays for dinner from 6 p.m. to midnight and on Sundays from 5:30 to 9:30 or 10. There should be an expanded wine list about now.

AND SPEAKING of wine, if the waiter pours your glass only about half full, he isn't trying to slow down your intake or cheat you. According to enophile Philip Harding, the line of demarcation between liquid and fragrance is midway twixt top and bottom. And the glass should be about eight ounces in size, or larger.

That's so your nose can share with your tongue the pleasure of the fermented grape. Says Harding: "It is much of the joy of the wine. You need room to swirl it. Unlock its secrets. Part of the ritual of wine service is piffle—but not the part about leaving lebensraum for your nostrils."

OVER IN STINSON BEACH, dining facilities at Farallon East have been closed since Labor Day, I believe.

This week the Walkers expected to have it open again after considerable remodeling. A new patio has been built for outside dining in the summer, or if there's fair weather, before then.

Hours are 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Dinners are served from 6 to 10 p.m. Sundays included.

THE DEMAND has been so insistent for Beth Taylor to serve some of her Greek specialties on the lunch menu at the Civic Center Coffee Shop that she has bowed to the will of her customers.

Henceforth there should be at least one sample of Hellenic cuisine on the mid-day fare. More than that on Wednesdays when there will be three Greek specials, plus Greek bread.

She still serves special groups of 20 or more for dinners by reservation, otherwise she is closed at night. But it appears likely that during the course of the year service may be extended to remaining open for the general public after sundown.

THIS PIECE DE RESISTANCE I left for wide separation from mention of Hector Rubini of San Rafael Joe's. There are still people in the county who do not seem to realize that Hector has not been associated with Rubini's in Fairfax for years, though it still bears his name.

Today's Rubini's owners of course are Dick Templeton and Gordon Jones. The latter is also chef—a chef of imagination, always on the lookout for new dishes.

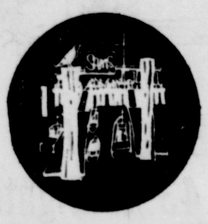
His latest, "Australian basket steak," is not something served in wickerware with French fried potatoes, but a choice steak with a pocket in it and stuffed with lobster, king crab and prawns previously sauteed in butter, herbs and wine, and then grilled.

It's rich and hearty, no doubt about it. But it's also quite delicious and if you're scant between the ribs this is the thing for you. Served with baked potato, which if you are in the mood, you'll have with butter, chopped bacon, sour cream and chives.

Potatoes again? Isn't that just about where I came in?

MAKING SWEET MUSIC TOGETHER

Weekends are gayer at Peacock Gap Country Club since Suzanne and Bob Steele, Corte Madera husband and wife piano and bass duo, started playing in the lounge Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Their lively and nostalgic tunes are heard in the lounge during the cocktail and dinner hours.



Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for *every*body.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

Battle On College Fees Continues

Mrs. Jane Sheehy of Belvedere, who started a battle a year ago to force the College of Marin to drop its registration fee for adults, continued the fight last night before Marin Junior College District trustees, with little success.

Armed with an attorney general's opinion, she asked that the board suspend the fee of $5 a class for adults taking less than 10 units. She is taking nine.

"Absolutely not," answered chairman Robert E. Oliver. He and the other trustees said they could not understand the complex, four-page legal opinion.

In February, 1964, Mrs. Sheehy asked that the special fee be dropped, contending the classes should be free to any taxpayer in the district.

At that time the board refused, after learning the district expected to gain $10,000 to $15,000 from such fees. Opinions from the attorney for the State Department of Education and from the state legislative counsel backed the college position.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney refused to say whether he felt the fee was legal. The latest opinion, written by Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard L. Mayers for State Sen. Donald L. Grunsky, R-Watsonville, indicates that the law saying fees must be charged for adult classes may not apply to all such classes.

Mrs. Sheehy said she did not expect to have to pay a fee this semester, but Oliver warned her that, although she could certainly attend classes, she might not receive credit unless she pays the registration.

"If there is any change of regulations at a later date, your fees will be refunded," Oliver said.

Mrs. Sheehy seemed surprised at this concession, and asked if the fee really would be refunded. "We'll certainly take that under advisement," Oliver said, falling back slightly from his previous promise.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers advised Mrs. Sheehy to pay her fees with "paid under protest" written across the check, thus possibly increasing chances for a refund.

College President Stephen E. Epler said 25 or 30 colleges in the state charge such fees. Oliver asked him to meet with County Counsel Maloney for an opinion of the attorney general's opinion, boiled down to about a half a page.

Students Picket Soviet Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 500 students picketed the Soviet Embassy yesterday, but their demonstration couldn't be seen by the Russians.

At the request of Washington police, the picketing took place around the corner and a block and a half away from the embassy building.

The group, calling itself the D. C. Student Protest Against Communist Imperialism, marched "to show that American students can stage an orderly and responsible protest against the foreign policy of opposing nations."

Earlier this week, students in Moscow demonstarted outside the U. S. Embassy, smashing windows and staining the building with ink.

$1,115,000 Suit Filed In Land Deal

A $1,115,000 suit for specific performance has been filed in Marin Superior Court over alleged breaking of a written agreement for purchase of 76 acres of land near San Rafael.

Ralph Wood of Oakland, doing business as Wood and Associates, asked that the defendants, Automotive City in San Francisco, and Joseph and Victoria Bonzani, and Armando J. and Lena H. Flocchini, all also of San Francisco, be compelled to fulfill an alleged Jan. 31 agreement to sell him the land, or that he be awarded the $1,115,000 in damages.

Wood said the land is south of Highway 101 near Marin Motor Movies on Bellam Boulevard, San Rafael, and is part of Joaquin Ranch property.

Referee Named To Decide On Sanitation Engineer

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District last night appointed a referee to decide whether the district should hire a district engineer-manager.

Appointed was J. L. Worthly of San Lorenzo, Alameda County, secretary-treasurer of the California Sanitary and Sanitation Districts Assn.

Worthly will confer with directors, staff members, district auditors and attorneys and J. Warren Nute of San Rafael, who is providing engineering services to the district on a contract basis.

Directors expect that Worthly will arrive at a decision by the end of next month.

At their last meeting directors voted 4-1 to abide by the referee's decision.

The board adjourned until Feb. 25 at 7:30 p.m. when directors will discuss the 1965-66 budget.

Today is Friday, Feb. 12, the 43rd day of 1965 with 322 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening star is Jupiter.

Abraham Lincoln was born on this day in 1809.

On this day in history:

In 1912, China became a Republic as the Manchu dynasty was overthrown by Chinese Nationalists.

In 1924, Paul Whiteman conducted a program of "symphonic jazz" in New York City with George Gershwin playing his "Rhapsody in Blue."

In 1953, Russia broke diplomatic relations with Israel after terrorists bombed the Soviet legation in Tel Aviv.

In 1963, an airliner crashed in the Florida Everglades shortly after leaving Miami for Chicago, killing all 43 persons aboard.

A Thought for the Day — Italian artist and inventor Leonard da Vinci once said: "As a well-spent day brings happy sleep, so life used well brings happy death."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Defense Muffs Chance To Punish Bad Bidding

As an experienced bridge player you know that you can count on the opponents to let you steal one trick.

This is legitimate larceny. When you count on them to let you steal three tricks, however, you're pushing your luck too hard.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

South got his first break when East could not continue spades after taking the first two tricks. East then switched to a low heart, and dummy's ace captured the queen, thus killing the West hand.

HOLDS BREATH

Declarer had to hold his breath while he led out the ace and queen of diamonds, but his luck held. East had the king and could get only two spades and the two red kings.

Correct defense would set the contract at least three tricks. East should return the king of hearts after taking two spade tricks.

This would make the queen of hearts an entry to the West hand.

SWAMP DECLARER

East would get in with the king of diamonds to lead a heart to the queen, and West's spades would swamp declarer.

North should jump to five diamonds instead of bidding three notrump. He needs almost nothing from his partner to make this contract and would almost surely score game and rubber despite the ghastly dummy he would get.

If East makes the normal opening of a low heart against five diamonds, North would win and draw one trump with the ace.

RUN CLUBS

Then he would run the clubs to discard both spades from the South hand. This would limit the loss to one heart and one diamond.

East can defeat five diamonds by opening the ace of spades. Later he will get a heart and a diamond.

Anybody who would lead the ace of spades from the East hand has not only been peeking but is also a very good analyst.

Planning Hearing Set On Lot Splits

The Marin County Planning Commission will conduct hearings on a lot-split ordinance, two changes in the county zoning ordinance and a change in the county subdivision ordinance starting at 9 a.m. Monday at the Civic Center.

First item on the agenda is a hearing on a change in the subdivision ordinance which would require underground utilities in new subdivisions.

The second item is a hearing on a lot-split ordinance, which requires improvements such as curbs, gutters and sidewalks when there are divisions of land into two or three parcels.

The commission also will have a hearing on an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would create lot controls, average density controls and a commercial and/or tourist recreation district (item 3).

The next hearing (item 4) will be on an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would control residential uses in commercial districts and prohibit residential uses in industrial districts.

Commissioners also are scheduled to consider an application of Clear View Cable Systems for a use permit to place master antennas and electronic equipment at 188 Stanford Avenue, Tamalpais Valley. The equipment would be used to distribute TV reception through Tamalpais and Homestead valleys by coaxial cable. This is item 11.

Hearing on a tentative map Harbor Point 3, a proposed 21-acre subdivision by Eichler Homes, west of the Salt Works Canal, and east of Harbor Point Unit 2, is item 20.

Continued discussion of an application by R. E. Miles for a permit to expand a marina at Paradise Cove, a move that was protested by Paradise Cay residents at the last commission meeting, is item 32.

He Didn't Wield Shovel

Darrell Hammock, 20, who was freed last Friday in Marin Municipal Court of a disturbing the peace charge, was never identified as the wielder of a shovel and a tire jack in a ruckus at the Pandora Restaurant in San Anselmo on Jan. 16, police said today.

Hammock, who lives at 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, was one of four men arrested after a row at the restaurant at 112 Spaulding Street, San Anselmo.

The initial report, published in the Independent-Journal the following day, said George Dumont, restaurant manager, had identified Hammock as the youth who entered the kitchen with a shovel and returned later with a tire jack. San Anselmo police said, however, that there was no identification of Hammock as wielder of either shovel or jack.

Charges against Hammock and two of the others arrested were dismissed for lack of evidence. The fourth, John F. Werst, 19, of 55 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, still faces a charge of disturbing the peace and is scheduled to go to trial Tuesday afternoon.

22 Have Positive TB Reactions

Thirteen youngsters and nine employees in the Sausalito School District had positive reactions to tuberculin skin tests given Monday, according to Mrs. Meredith Ball, district nurse.

Positive reactions do not necessarily mean that the person has tuberculosis, Mrs. Ball noted. "Some adults have positive reactions year after year because they were exposed to tuberculosis germs as a child," she said.

Those who had positive reactions from Monday's test will be given a retest, Mrs. Ball said. Results of retests will be complete next week.

The tests were given to 738 students and 45 employees of the district.

The prairie schooner was the covered wagon used by our forefathers for cross-country travel.

Supervisors To Hold Districting Session

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will have a special session to discuss supervisorial redistricting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Civic Center.

The San Geronimo Valley Assn. has asked the board to reconsider district changes which went into effect Dec. 31.

Supervisors also received a letter from the Tomales Bay School District asking reconsideration because the new boundaries split the Marshall precinct between the fourth and fifth supervisorial districts.

The redistricting, submitted by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, brought a major change in the Fourth District (West Marin), extending it across county to San Quentin Point and into downtown San Rafael.

Supervisors have until April 30 to take action on the districts. They can either state by resolution that the present districts meet the equal population requirements of the law, or they can readjust the boundaries by April 30.

South America's northernmost nations, Colombia and Venezuela, are planning joint projects to help the peopls who live a threadbare existence in remote mountains, deserts, plains and jungles along the 1,400-mile border.

Market Closes Higher During Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in fairly active trading.

The list made a brisk recovery from Thursday's sharp setback, recovering about half of its losses on average.

Airlines, golds, motors and selected issues were strong.

U.S. Smelting gained about 5, Texas Gulf Sulphur 4, Polaroid 3.

General Motors and Ford each rose about a point.

Homestake spurted 2 points.

Du Pont and Kennecott added around a point each.

Chrysler, after some early wavering, was holding on to a fractional gain.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.1 million shares compared with 5.83 million yesterday.

Here was the picture shortly before the close:

After three sharp declines this week on the Viet Nam crisis, many leading issues looked attractive to traders and investors and the market snapped back some of its losses, brokers said.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), weak in recent sessions, was bought so insistently that it looked like the most active stock, showing a fractional gain. Texaco climbed nearly a point. Other major oils gained fractions.

Airlines and gold mining issues were strong. Eastern Airlines gained about 2, along with Northwest Airlines and Delta.

As the golds rallied, Homestake and American-South African Investment rose about 2 each.

Semiholiday conditions prevailing because of Lincoln's birthday cut down volume.

U.S. Smelting rebounded more than 4; Eastman Kodak and Xerox 2 each; IBM, Douglas Aircraft, Schering, General Motors and Pennsylvania Railroad about a point each.

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Drug Store Is Planned For Novato

Long's Drug Stores Inc. of Oakland has announced signing of a lease for a 20,000-square foot drug store to be built this spring in downtown Novato.

The store will be in the new Downtown Novato Shopping Center, a project of Gerald Hoytt, developer of Marinwood and president of Hoytt Enterprises. The center is to occupy a 22-acre site at the southwest corner of Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

Architects are Hammarberg and Herman of Oakland, who are planning a rustic "town and country" motif which will preserve most of the natural assets of the site.

The drug store, expected to be open by fall, will have seven checkout counters, wide aisles, multi - zone air conditioning, automatic doors, background music, modern fixtures and display accessories. J. M. Long, president of the chain, said there will be a large prescription department.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Over 65? You Can Save In Figuring Capital Gain

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

A taxpayer 65 years old or over can exclude any Capital Gain in the first $20,000 of the sales price of his personal residence if he has owned the personal residence for at least eight years and has actually used it as his principal place of residence for at least five out of the last eight years.

Wikel

If the sales price is $20,000 or less, you can exclude all the Capital Gain.

If the sales price is more than $20,000, you can exclude only the proportionate share of the gain that the adjusted sales price bears to $20,000.

This is a once in a lifetime exclusion. You cannot claim it more than once. Both husband and wife will satisfy the age, ownership and use requirements where one of them satisfies such requirements for a residence they own as joint tenants, tenants for the entirety, or community property, and they file a joint return.

A widow or widower over 65 years old, whose deceased spouse met the ownership and use requirements and who had not made an election under this provision, may make an election under this exclusion of gain provision.

Community apartment stockholders who are entitled to a house or apartment because of such stock ownership can make an election when they sell their stock.

If a house is used partially for a personal residence and partially for business, only the gain on that part of the house used as a personal residence can be excluded.

Destruction, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation of a personal residence is treated as the sale of such property. Any gain realized from such involuntary conversion will qualify.

If your residence is sold and the selling price is over $20,000 and you have a profit and within one year before or one year after the sale you purchase a new residence, you might be able to use both the above and the provisions of Section 1034 relating to the deferral of gain on the sale of residence so that you pay no tax at this time.

If your residence is involuntarily converted or sold or exchanged, any gain can be reduced by the above exclusion. The above amount of the excluded gain will increase your basis in your newly acquired residence however.

TARS JUMP A NOTCH, RATED 8TH IN STATE

College of Marin's basketball team has moved up to the No. 8 spot in California Junior College ratings, compiled by J. C. Sportswire of San Francisco.

Sportswire noted that the Tars have the state's longest winning streak—17 games—and the best junior college record—19 wins and 2 losses.

Marin moved up from ninth spot in the rankings after beating Siskiyous 94-62, Shasta 107-98, and Napa 84-61.

Fullerton Junior College, with a 21-4 record, is the top rated team on the Sportswire list.

Marin plays at Yuba tomorrow night.

Ex-Li'l Leaguer New S. F. Bullpen Hope

Aching in the region of the bullpen, the San Francisco Giants have given the big bye-bye to 34-year-old reserve catcher Del Crandall and the big hello to 26-year-old right-handed reliever Bob Priddy.

Crandall, a 14 - year major league veteran, was shipped to the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday for Priddy and Bob Burda, a 26-year - old outfielder and first baseman. Burda was zipped to the Giants Pacific Coast League farm at Tacoma.

The 6-foot-1, 200-pound Priddy, who came out of the Pittsburgh Little and Pony Leagues, looks even bigger in the Giants bullpen. For Masanori Murakami, the Japanese southpaw who went from curiosity to necessity last year, is in training with the Nankai Hawks despite a signed contract with the Giants.

Former major leaguer Joe Stanka, representing the Hawks, plans to confer with baseball commissioner Ford Frick early next week after breaking off talks with the Giants yesterday.

"When the Giants got Ed Bailey," said Crandall, "I knew I was a little more expendable, so the trade didn't come as a shock."

The Giants re-acquired Bailey recently from Milwaukee where they had traded him just one year before. This means that, as in 1963, both front-line catchers will bat left handed.

BOB PRIDDY

BOB BURDA

One of the reasons cited by the Giants for obtaining Crandall from Milwaukee in the same deal was that there should be a right-handed batting catcher to complement regular Tom Haller.

But Crandall only produced three homers in 1964 for the power-mad Giants while batting .231 in 69 games. Although Bailey didn't fare too well in Milwaukee, when he's hot—usually in the spring months — he can hit three homers in less than one week, especially in Candlestick Park where the fabled wind blows to right.

Priddy was 1-2 with the Pirates with a 3.97 earned-run average after being called up late from Columbus. A fast - ball thrower, Priddy compiled a 6-4 record at Columbus with a 3.28 ERA.

Burda batted .271 at Columbus with 18 homers and 78 runs-batted-in.

The Giants announced the signing of veteran pitcher Bob Hendley, 25, and rookie hurler Bill Hands.

Two pitchers—ace Juan Marichal and reliever Bob Shaw—so far are the only Giants to return unsigned contracts.

Redwood Rally Tips Terra Linda

Giants Protect Cage Loop Lead

The Terra Linda Trojans gave the Redwood Giants a scare yesterday in Marin Athletic League cage action but the league-leading Giants rallied to earn the victory, 61-52.

Terra Linda came from a 28-20 halftime deficit to take a four-point lead in the final quarter with three minutes left in the game. But then the Giants caught fire and scored when it counted.

Redwood got off to a slow start, hitting only four points in the opening stanza. The Giants made up for it in the second period by notching 24 points. From there, the game was close. At the three-quarter mark it was Redwood 40-36.

Spearheading that second quarter spurt for Redwood were Russ Smith with 9 points and Tom Bly with 6. Those two boys tied for game high scoring honors with 17 apiece. Don Knotts led Terra Linda with 14 points.

Another star for Redwood was Bruce McGee who went in for Chuck Myer who fouled out. Playing a small portion of the game, McGee scored 11 points, including five field goals.

Redwood scored from the floor at a 36 per cent clip, sinking 22 of 62 shots. Hot from the free throw line, the Giants hit 17 of 22 for 77 per cent. Tom Bly was the backboard man for the winners, taking 16. Playing a good board game for the Trojans was Kraig Kilby.

Redwood coach Dick Hart called Terra Linda "the most improved ball club in the league." He said Kilby showed much improvement over his performance in the two clubs' first meeting. "That boy played a good game on the boards," said Hart.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Marin Needs Writer's Voice On Shrine Grid Selection Board

I THINK it's about time the committee in charge of the Shrine North-South high school football classic played each summer in Los Angeles takes another look at its Northern California player-selection committee.

I wouldn't want to be called a party crasher or anything of the sort, but I think it's time Marin County gets a sports writer on the selection committee. There are 13 scribes in the group now—but none from the Redwood Empire.

PETE LIMM

San Francisco has three prep panic pundits — Al Moss, Bob Sprenger and Al Corona—casting ballots. The peninsula is well-represented by newsmen, as is the East Bay and points east.

I'm not saying these scribes don't give Marin and North Bay candidates a fair shake, but I think our kids would have a better shot at selection on the team if a Marin scribe with initials of J. G. were shouting their praise.

I bring the subject up today because the North committee is scheduled to select its team tomorrow and, according to my spy, "It doesn't look like any of the Marin nominees will make it."

The Marinites up for consideration are Drake's Lee Jamison and Larry Stein and Terra Linda's Tim Garvin and Rick Edwards. I think at least one should make it. But, as my spy said, "In early talks none of the Marin boys was rated high enough; the way it looks now none will make it."

If a Shrine big-wig is listening, please keep me in mind for a spot on the selection committee.

Or as one chick cackled, observing a bulging bicep, "I couldn't hold a candle to that."

Anyway, a good time is promised for all who want to see this call to arms.

Admission is a buck, I think. And you'd better pay up. Or you're liable to find yourself in the main event.

BILLINGS-HUTCHISON Builders of Marin semi-pro team will have three able reps playing in the Red Adams Memorial Game at Candlestick Sunday — Ron Cole and Jerry Ard, both property of the Houston Astros, and Larry Smoot, Dodger property.

MARIN COUNTY will be well-represented at the Coach of the Year football clinic in San Francisco's Jack Tar Hotel today and tomorrow, to wit: coaches Chuck Vaughan, Don McCann and Gary Hughes of Marin Catholic, Marlin Olsen and Al Scott from Novato, Bob Franceschini, Carl Brown and Mahlon Conly of Drake, Pete Limm, Don Boucher, Don Lucas, Jess Payan, Robert Martin and Gordon Perkins of Terra Linda, Bob Muster and Bill Monti of San Rafael and Dick Hart, Al Endris, Tony Bailey, Phil Roark and Bob Troppmann of Redwood.

Troppmann is the manager of this Eastman Kodak Co.—sponsored clinic that will draw some 1,000 coaches, including the biggest names in collegiate ranks (Ara Parseghian, Duffy Daugherty, Frank Broyles, Tommy Prothro, John Ralston, etc.). Mr. Etc. coaches at Andsoforth U.

Other Marinites registered are Dr. Edward Cook, Rome Brusati and Dr. Ed Randol of San Rafael, John Pagliaro of Larkspur, Ed Racely of Mill Valley, Dick Read of College of Marin and yours truly.

STANFORD COACH John Ralston, participant in Marin's Sports Injury Conference Jan. 30, wrote committeeman Dr. Carl Schlichtmann, "It was a most enjoyable experience and I feel that I got a lot out of the program."

If Stanford's Indians stay healthy all next season, you'll know the reason why.

FOURTH ANNUAL World's Wristwrestling Championship Tournament will be held tonight, 8 o'clock, at Petaluma's Veterans Memorial Building. The Battle of the Bulging Biceps annually attracts more strong arms than you can shake a box of baking soda at. Petaluma used to be known as the egg capital of the world. And that's no yoke, by cracky. Now the grunts you hear are human.

NOVATO WHIPPED

Marin Catholic Quintet Erupts

Marin Catholic's Wildcats last night put together the kind of basketball game expected of them earlier in the year and thumped the Novato Hornets 56-37 in Greenbrae.

It was a fine team effort by the Wildcats who used a powerful second half to overwhelm the visiting Hornets. Marin scored 34 points in that half to only 20 for Novato.

Leading the Wildcats in scoring were Tom Soden with 17 points, Bill Shine with 15 and Dave Morrell with 12. Big scorers for the Hornets were Tom Corder with 11 points, and John Dolinsek and Ev Fritz, each with 10.

After the first half, Marin had a 22-17 lead, but then exploded for 20 points in the third period to send the game out of reach. In that period, the Wildcats scored eight buckets and kept the lead from that point on.

Marin put together a great defensive game and played well as a team, working its plays to perfection. The starting Marin five worked most of the game without a substitute. First substitution in the game for Marin came with two minutes left when the second team took over.

Marin shot for 54 per cent from the floor to 28 per cent for Novato. Very sharp from the charity stripe, the Wildcats hit 16 out of 22 for 74 per cent to Novato's 9 out of 17 (54 per cent). Soden was the big rebounder for Marin, grabbing a total of 13. Brad McDonald was credited with a fine floor game.

Novato	10	7	12	8	37

Novato scorers: Tom Corder, 5-1-11; John Dolinsek, 4-2-10; Ev Fritz, 4-2-10; Ron Rowell, 1-2-4; Tom Stetson, 0-1-1; Al Parsons, 0-1-1. Totals: 14-9—37.

Marin Catholic scorers: Tom Soden, 7-3-17; Bill Shine, 5-5-15; Dave Morrell, 5-2-12; Brad McDonald, 3-2-8; Bob Lombardi, 0-2-2; Brian Grove, 0-2-2. Totals 20-16—56.

Bulldogs Clobber Tamites

San Rafael High School's Bulldog cagers found the Indians from Tamalpais High easy prey last night as they soundly threashed the visiting Tamites 54-33.

There wasn't any scoring until two minutes had elapsed in the game and then San Rafael scored a pair of buckets to take a 4-0 lead. By the time the quarter ended the Bulldogs were in front 15-8 and they never looked back.

The entire Tam team, and that includes high-scoring Larry Gray, was cold throughout the game. In the first half, San Rafael hit 44 per cent to only 22 per cent for Tam. It was the same story in the second half, the Bulldogs hitting buckets at a 34 per cent clip to only 23 per cent for Tam.

San Rafael was led in the scoring by Ken Erdman with 14 points and Terry Overlid with 13. Gray paced the Tam boys with 9 points.

Rebounding, the Bulldogs pulled 46 off the boards to 33 for Tam. Overlid led the S.R. team with 13. Greg Tellis led the Indians in rebounding with 11.

San Rafael gave the Indians a lot of chances from the free throw line as the Bulldogs committed 24 fouls. But the resulting charity tosses for Tam, 33 in all, resulted in only 15 points. San Rafael made 8 of 17 from the free throw line.

SHRINE GRID MANAGER BILL COFFMAN RETIRES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For W. M. (Bill) Coffman, who's led nine lives in the one he's lived for 81 years, retirement means supervising construction of a new Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in San Francisco made possible by the college all-star game he helped found 40 years ago.

The San Francisco East-West game—first of the all star contests played by college seniors—has had one managing director and only one.

Now Coffman, giving advanced age as the reason, steps down after managing $4,772,668 to Shrine hospitals from the game alone.

He announced his retirement yesterday while making the financial report of the last game to the Islam Temple. The game played in the mud earned $245,761.50—profit.

BILL COFFMAN

"This new Shriners Hospital will be a monument to the East-West game," said Coffman, who as chairman of the board of hospital governors, will supervise the rebuilding of the facilities.

Coffman led a crowded life that still looks busy. After leaving Portsmouth, Va., he became a Bowery ballad singer, a Nebraska sheepherder, a California fruit picker and a saloon crooner for the miners of tough Goldfield, Nev.

He also claims he spent a few years aboard sailing vessels after being shanghaied from the Barbary Coast of San Francisco, but not before he saw the earthquake and fire of 1906.

In the spring of 1925, the late Capt. E. Jack Spaulding proposed an idea that flowered into the first East - West Game. Played at old Ewing Field, the game attracted a sellout crowd that poured $25,000 in profits into the hospital coffers.

Coffman plans to remain an advisor to the game and as vice chairman of the San Francisco Park and Recreation Commission, which oversees Kezar Stadium, home of the game.

From 45 states and 155 colleges in 40 years have come 1,868 players who ran on strong legs so weak legs might walk.

Coffman, 1947 Football Writers of America Man of the Year, says the hospital the game built is "a permanent honor to the great players and millions of spectators who have made the East-West game the real classic it is."

Richardson Faces Ban From Ring

OAKLAND (UPI) — Heavy weight Willie Richardson faces possible lifetime banishment from the ring for attacking Roger Rischer with feet and fists before they were to fight for the California heavyweight title Wednesday night at Oakland Auditorium.

Referee Vern Bybee said yesterday he planned to recommend that the 25-year-old San Jose fighter be suspended for life.

"He has been mixed up in too many disqualifications and is a detriment to boxing," the referee declared.

As Bybee summoned the fighters for instructions before their 12-round title fight, the challenger rushed out and kicked Rischer in the groin and followed up with more kicks and punches. They continued fighting outside the ring before Bybee and others broke up the scuffle. Richardson was disqualified and put on indefinite suspension.

Runner-Up Draws Raves In Phoenix Open Golf Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bert Yancey carried a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $67,500 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament today, but much of the attention was focused on one of the two men tied for second.

Yancey, a Philadelphian, shot a five-under par 67 yesterday to take the first-round lead. The 26-year-old former West Point cadet recorded five birdies on the 6,584-yard Arizona Country Club course.

Tied for second at 68 were Al Geiberger and Frank Beard. It was Beard who was drawing the raves.

Beard, 25, jumped into the limelight in Wednesday's proam competition when he fired a sizzling nine-under-par 63 for a course record.

Beard had nine birdies in his record round, and he added four more yesterday. For the second straight day he went without a bogey.

Jerry Steelsmith and Walter Burkemo were just off the pace with 69s.

A foursome at 70 included defending champion Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, Peter Mazur and Stan Leonard.

Nicklaus, Boros and Mazur had the misfortune of playing early rounds during which a chilly 25 miles per hour wind swept the course and kept most of the competitors from getting the best of par.

Although the temperature didn't climb above the high 40s, the wind quieted in the afternoon and 19 players shot sub-par rounds.

British Open champion Tony Lema carded a 73 in a morning round and PGA champ Bobby Nichols had a 74 during the afternoon.

Yancey, who has played portions of two previous seasons on the tour, called his 67 yesterday "one of the best rounds I've ever shot." Four of his five birdies came on par 5 holes, evidence of his long-hitting ability.

Bill Casper Jr., who won last week's $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Springs, Calif., played a morning round at even par 72.

The weather forecast today was for conditions generally the same as Thursday, and some shuffling in the standings was expected as tee times were reversed.

Rugby Sunday, Not Saturday

The rugby doubleheader scheduled this weekend at Peacock Gap Country Club will be held Sunday, not Saturday as incorrectly reported in yesterday's I-J sports section.

In the first game, Peacock Gap will play the University Club of Los Angeles at 1:30 p.m., followed by the game between the Olympic Club Olympian team and the University Club of Berkeley at 3:15 p.m.

Farrell Cracks Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Farrell was going for a record, but it was the wrong one and he didn't really want it anyhow and besides he was running scared.

"I didn't look back. I couldn't. I was afraid to," the St. John's, N.Y., senior said last night after he'd run the fastest half-mile ever over an indoor track and, in the process, beaten old nemesis Bill Crothers in the 880-yard run in the 97th New York Athletic Club Games.

"I knew he was back there," said Farrell, who isn't noted for his kick. "At no time did I feel confident. I kept waiting for him to come up to me. The pressure, boy, the pressure was too much."

And Crothers, the 24-year-old Toronto pharmacist who had been the king of the indoor middle distance men for the last two seasons, made his try to put on the kick that usually won for him. But it wasn't enough and Farrell whipped in some three yards in front of the man he'd never beaten before in indoor record time of 1:49.8.

Then the dark-haired, 21-year-old college boy started talking about the record—the wrong one. Indoor marks are not recognized internationally as world records. The fastest ever run in this country was 1:50 flat by Crothers. And that was the one Farrell was talking about.

The fastest ever run indoors anywhere was 1:49.9 by New Zealand's Peter Snell in Japan in 1962. Farrell broke that one, too, but it was Crothers' mark that interested him.

"I knew I'd have to break it to beat him," Farrell said. "I had my mind on it all week. I had no particular plan except run him into the ground. I KNOW I can't kick with him.

"I knew I had to set the fastest pace of my life to beat him and I gave it everything I had. Fortunately, it was good enough.

The Madison Square Garden crowd of 13,817 was treated to two other indoor marks and an another American indoor record, all by women.

Russia's Tamara Press, Olympic gold medal winner in the shot and discus, went 57-4¼ in the shot and Yolanda Balas of Roumania was 5-9½ in the high jump, both indoor records. England's Mary Rand, another Olympic gold medalist, set an American mark at 20-2 in the broad jump.

Gary Gubner's string of 17 straight shot put victories in the Garden was broken by Hungarian Vilmos Varju, 61-10¼. Gubner was 60-8¼.

Other major winners were Russia's world-record holder Valery Brumel, who did 7-3 in the high jump, best of the season; Gennady Bliznetsov of Russia on fewer misses at 15-6 in the pole vault, Marine Lt. Frank Tomeo at 1:10.9 in the 600, New York's Charlie Mays at 57.7 in the 500, Fordham's Sam Perry at 6.2 in the 60, Pete Whitehouse of the NYAC in a 7.3 hurdles, Jim Grelle of Los Angeles at 4:07.1 in the mile and Vic Zwolak, Wilmington, Del., in an 8:55.6 two mile.

Haley, Perreault Spark Seals' Win

By United Press International

Two goals by Len Haley in the last period and a good night in the nets by Bobby Perreault had the San Francisco Seals in contention for a Western Hockey League playoff berth again today.

The Seals broke a three game losing streak with a 5-3 win over the Los Angeles Blades last night before 7,444 disappointed Sports Arena partisans.

The Blades have now lost six and tied one of their last eight games.

Leo LaBine, Brian Smith and Warren Hynes tallied for the losers and Dallas Smith, Wayne Connelly, and Gerry Odrowski joined Haley in the scoring column for the winners.

Connelly's goal was his 29th. He is the league leader in that department. Odrowski's goal early in the third period broke a 2-2 tie and came when his shot was deflected off the stick of a Blade defender into the nets.

It was 4-2 with a minute to go when Hynes scored, but Haley tallied 46 seconds later after Los Angeles had pulled its goalie in a frantic attempt to knot the score.

Perreault suffered a cut over his left eye that required two stitches in the first period and delayed the game for 10 minutes. But he came back to stop the Blades 15 times in the second period and 7 in the final to set up the Seals' victory. He had 33 stops in all.

The win pushed the Seals to within two points of fourth.

Snell To Retire; To Try For 3:50 First

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The talent of Peter Snell, the world's top middle distance runner, will be seen indoors for the last time Saturday night.

The 26-year-old New Zealand sensation will be running the 1,000-yard event in the Los Angeles Times Indoor Games at the Sports Arena. It's one of five distances in which he holds the world record.

And after it's over, says Snell, he's through on the boards.

Snell told a news conference yesterday that he will retire from track completely after "one more fling" of outdoor competition next summer.

"I'm writing a book about track," he said, "and I guess that automatically will end my amateur career. But I want to quit this year anyhow. I can't give enough time to track and advance my work, too.

"Also, I want to develop more of a family life."

A competitor who writes a book about track is considered to be capitalizing on his specialty, and hence loses his amateur status.

In private life, Snell is a public relations executive for a tobacco company in Auckland. He got the job despite the fact he's a non-smoker.

OLYMPIC CHAMP

Snell, a double gold medal winner at the Tokyo Olympics last year, holds these world standards: 1:44.3 for 800 meters; 1.45.1 for 880 yards; 2:16.6 for 1,000 meters; 3:54.1 for the mile, and 2:06 for 1,000 yards.

The New Zealander plans to return home immediately after Saturday night's competition. But he said he hopes to come back to Southern California for the Compton Invitational in June. Then he will travel to Canada and Europe for other races on his final fling.

In the course of his last effort, Snell has two ambitions.

"I'd like to have a go at 3:50 for the mile," he said, "and I'd like to break the 1,500 - meter record of 3:35.6."

Of the latter record, which is held by retired Australian Herb Elliott, Snell observed:

"When I did 3:54.1, I had no competition, or I could have gone considerably faster. And I was running very easily when I won the 1,500 at Tokyo in 3:38.1."

He listed five potential successors to himself as king of the milers — Dyrol Burleson, Tom O'Hara, Jim Ryun of the United States; Michel Jazy of France, and John Davies, a fellow New Zealander.

New Look Warriors Triumph

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With big Nate Thurmond back in the lineup and recent acquisition John Rudemetkin popping from afar, the San Francisco Warriors travel south tonight to meet the Los Angeles Lakers.

This is the first of a two-game weekend set with the second contest Saturday slated for San Francisco Civic Auditorium. The Warriors have beaten the Lakers only once in six tries this season.

Thurmond returned from a one-game vacation caused by a back ailment and scored 19 points last night at Oakland Auditorium in leading the "New Look" Warriors past the Philadelphia 76ers 106-100.

It was the first victory in three games over the 76ers since the Warriors traded Wilt Chamberlain to them. Chamberlain nevertheless led the travel-weary 76ers with 24 points and his replacement, Thurmond, fouled out.

Rudemetkin, picked up on waivers from the New York Knicks, put in 18 points with some nifty perimeter shooting. The lack of outside gunnery has been a Warrior problem for many years.

There will be two races tomorrow and two more on Sunday in each of seven classes, sponsored by the Berkeley and University of California Yacht Clubs, in conjunction with the OCSA.

Fifty boats are expected off the Olympic Circle course off Berkeley, starting at 11 a.m. each day. Results will be based on each yacht's best three races out of four.

Celts Valued At $2 Million Plus

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics basketball champions are for sale but would-be buyers better bring their checkbooks because the price is high —more than $2 million.

Lou Pieri, co-owner of the seven-time National Basketball Association champions, has been trying for years to sell his 50 per cent stock in the club. He now admits he's had several offers. None sufficient for him to consider seriously.

Until last year, Boston Garden President Walter A. Brown held the other half of the Celtics stock. On his death, the stock went to his widow, Mrs. Marjorie A. Brown.

According to Pieri, neither he nor Mrs. Brown is interested in continuing to operate the club.

"My home and business are in Rhode Island," Pieri said, "and I don't want to be an absentee owner."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

For Anglers: With Wind From The North, Venture Not Forth

STEVENS

Back in Illinois where I started fishing on my sixth birthday, other anglers had a rhyme—"Wind from the south, fish bite in the mouth; wind from the west, fish bite the best; wind from the east, fish bite the least; wind from the north, venture not forth."

The wind has been from the north for several days now, and very few fishermen ventured forth. An exception was Jim Purcell. He ventured forth with the objective being to dunk some bait in a favorite back country spot. Jim wasted time, gasoline, and got sand in his eyes when he stepped from his car. In short, Jim Purcell should not have ventured forth.

SUNDAY WASN'S so windy, but it was hardly what you'd call balmy, either. Some rather nice fish were landed, though. Lee's shop in Oakland reported Ted Hansen taking a 46-pound sturgeon off China Camp; George Layman took two bass to 10 pounds in Indian Slough in the back country (Indian Slough is a good black bass and catfish area, but this is the first time anyone reported getting stripers). Ben Barr took his limit to 17 pounds on bullhead baits off Rodeo. One noteworthy catch was that of Fred Thompson landing an 8-pound steelhead in Pescadero Creek.

Regarding prospects of tangling with a steelhead, perhaps I should say they are good—basing such a guess merely because steelhead fishing has been plain lousy up until now. Oh, the streams are reasonably clear and at normal level, but, for some reason, the fish don't know it. Reports would indicate such is the case. The usual numbers came in during the storms, but instead of locating a nice deep hole where they could rest up and get used to the increased oxygen in the water, perhaps there was enough saline water for them to swim past the holes and continue on their spawning way. Whatever the cause, to date comparatively few steelies have been caught. Londo Franci was one of the exceptions to the landed a nice steelhead in the Gualala this week.

NOW, DON'T get me wrong. Some fish have been caught on most every coastal stream, and there will be some caught right up to the evening of Feb. 28. It's just a case of being afraid to give any reader the impression that steelhead now in the rivers are schooled up just waiting for some human to toss a roe- berry or lure their way. I simply repeat the advice: Don't saddle up and gallop to your favorite hole on your favorite stream. Make a phone call to someone on the ground, who will give you the low-down. And — in case there has been a hard rain the day before, don't bother to make the call. So, that's it for today, see you later. Chow!

A VISIT TO THE SPORTS AND BOAT SHOW

Americans Escaping Regimentation

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

America is headed for the water! Also the hills, rivers and quiet lake shores. It's escaping regimentation and the pound of traffic. If you don't believe this, take a long look at the faces of those visiting the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show which draws to a close Sunday night.

Thousands of people with rapture-filled faces gathered brochures from Vacation Hall. A remarkable display of tackle and gear dazzled the fisherman, and those interested in hunting hardly knew where to begin viewing the guns and new equipment.

Boat and motor displays were lined up row-upon-row, ranging from peanut sizes to roaring wake - makers. Possibly the smallest was the Sea Dart. And if a boat can be called cute — it was that. Built of fiberglass, the skipper flies on it, steering with his feet. The tiny engine is in a well. All of which is calculated to raise the eyebrows of any self-respecting porpoise.

If you just happen to have $102,547 jingling in your pocket, there's a 50-foot custom-designed Stephens: A boat built to brave the Pacific. Opulently beamy!

SAILBOAT ARENA

The sailboat arena has come to full stature, having on display 70 models of this great sport. Supremely dramatic is the 40-foot Columbia with a mast so tall it almost kebobbed the Cow Palace roof.

Some sailboats now will plane. There were many types and sizes among all the wind-catchers presented. There's something about a sailboat that seems to stir up an awesome respect. An unidentiable nostaggia for far places, not yet seen.

Among other boats shown were rubber rafts, canoes, amphibs, and on to all sizes and shapes of small and large cruisers. Power units included outboards; inboard - outboard engines, also diesel and gasoline inboards.

Cruisers, the women were pleased to note, no longer have that aura of blackened coffee pot, sock dishrag, tin dishpan in the galley. They see full table settings with floral center pieces — not to mention napkins and quite proper silver service. Ankle-clinging carpets and orange, blue and other bright decorator pillows added to the luxury. Old-timer skippers, however, viewing all this avant-garde status have the look of someone having just been socked by an unidentified object. Granted though, plastic nasturtiams, place mats and crystal may nauseate the sailorman, the motif is soul-comfort the "Little Woman." And the boat designer, like the automobile industry, knows full well to whom he must salaam.

Trailerboat displayed a fire and rescue boat. It held Jacuzzi pumps, having an output of 3,600 gallons per minute . . . actually more than two comparable fire trucks. Powered by a jet inboard-outboard, it zippps along some 30 mph.

The Sand Buggy was premiered. Several manufacturers showing their wares. One weighed only 320 pounds, and is advertised as capable of going anyplace but straight up. Traverses snow and water, too.

More houseboats were displayed this year. This could indicate an increase in boating interest focused on something less than speed. Perhaps on the peaceful aspects of exploring with all-around conveniences aboard.

The family who would love to own a floating apartment should see this houseboat section. In many cases, luxury plus top boating performance is apparent. There are several types of hulls . . . barge, pontoon and catamaran; and depending on size, they are powered by everything from outboards to big inboards.

This year the skate-board arena was something new to see in the precision, teen-age sports, a type of "sidewalk surfing." The boys demonstrating the skill were very good, stepping over curbs, going uphill and zig-zagging wildly.

Travel trailers, campers, glorified-tents, and unbelievable parallel equipment drew the crowd like a magnet. All of these were turned out with one great thought in mind: The proper utilization of space. Even so, this was accomplished with no loss of contemporary feeling.

Many campers and trailers are self-contained, allowing the possessor excessive freedom when away from the facilities of sewerage, electricity, water and gas.

Backyard pleasantries drew a crowd. For the patio — or camping — tables of food combinations and outdoor cooking gadgetry made a pleasant sight.

Other attractions included cycling, (including water); skin diving, skiing, (water and snow); a billiard parlor, Huck Finn Pool, and taxidermy booth.

If you have "sky-high" notions on sport, there are booths and displays on airplanes and flying. For the person who wants a cabin away-from-it-all, there is a pre-cut unit. Do it, or have it done. Real nice. Has a corner fireplace, kitchen and bedroom.

Vacation Hall was overwhelmed, as usual. Almost every county in California was represented, as were the bordering states of Arizona, Nevada and Oregon. Noticeably interested were the moms, pops and children. Conversation overheard indicated there is great family interest in camping and traveling, with all the related joys of boating, fishing, skiing and swimming.

There is still time to see the show this weekend. Wear comfortable shoes. Take some type of bag large enough to hold many brochures. There are snack bars and a restaurant or two. But don't become separated from your own group—you may never see them again. Projected figure for attendance this year: 350,000 persons.

IT'S TIME AGAIN FOR HEARTS AND LACE

Because Valentine's Day falls on Sunday, valentine parties got under way yesterday. Three-year-old Laurel Mooney (left) of 20 D Street is being a bit arch about the request of 3-year-old Cameran Critchlow of 14 Bryn Mawr Avenue that she be his valentine. They were snapped at a valentine party for pre-schoolers given by the San Rafael Recreation Department at the recreation center on Union Street. Sixth graders of San Rafael's Coleman School (right) decided to contribute money to the Heart Fund instead of spending it for valentines. Putting their money where their hearts are on a poster in the classroom are Richard Hill of 310 Paloma Avenue and Debbie Presco of 55 Bayview Avenue.

Simple Report Sought

The San Rafael Sanitary District is getting jammed with figures.

At least that is the interpretation of San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, secretary of the three-man sanitary board.

After seeing 18 pages issued from an IBM printer, the board yesterday voted to look further into the law regarding county handling of district accounts.

McInnis said the quarterly summary was once done on one page, listing income, disbursement and balances in accounts.

He said that under an interpretation of the state law, the directors felt compelled several months ago to transfer accounting to the county auditor's office.

Directors yesterday, with Supervisor Thomas T. Storer abstaining, voted that engineer Norris M. Rawles seek further into the legal "interpretation," McInnis reported.

County Auditor Michael Mitchell claimed new process, done with the county' electronic brain, saves time for the district.

McInnis, however, would like to see the old method restored if it is legally possible.

Defects To West

BERLIN (AP) — A 21-year-old East German border guard defected to West Berlin during the night, West Berlin police said today.

Branson School Loses Its Bid For Variance

Katharine Branson School lost its bid for a variance permit to build its future arts and science building within 11 feet of the property line, in a lengthy hearing before the Ross Town Council last night.

Mayor Fredrick S. Allen and Councilman Harry C. Scott Jr. favored granting the variance. However other councilmen held that the variance would be refused out-of-hand if the applicant were a private citizen rather than a school. There was one letter of protest from a neighbor, Mrs. Beryl Buck.

Allen's motion to grant the variance was defeated 3 to 2.

Architect Roger Hooper and school officials argued that setting the two-story building back the required 25 feet would crowd it against other buildings in the school's academic quadrangle off Fernhill Avenue, and would mean more costly foundations because of slope problems. The new laboratory and classrooms structure would replace an old, three-car garage with no setback whatever from the property line, the school spokesman argued, and would rise only six feet higher than the existing garage's peaked roof.

An hour-long hearing resulted in the council voting 3 to 1, with Roy Farrington Jones abstaining, to grant K. K. Bechtel approval of a new subdivision map affecting property above Willow Hill Road. The vote overruled objections from six property owners downhill on the private road.

Bechtel's home is at the end of Hillside Avenue. He seeks to buy two downhill lots from owner Ernest Mendenhall, transfer their upper, tree-covered steep portions to his own homesite, and resell the remaining land, which would be lots of one-acre plus and seven acres.

Attorney Albert Bianchi, representing the six protestants, stressed that they do not object to Bechtel's retention of the green belt, but rather to the possibility that the council would be tacity approving a subdivision map indicating that the lower lots have an easement for access via the Willow Hill private road, which they do not.

Easement matters are not for the council to decide, declared Mayor Allen. He pointed out that no one could build on the lots until they could show the city they had obained access. Willow Hill residents don't want more traffic to result from building on the two lots, but access might be arranged from Hillside Avenue, which is a town street, he noted.

Only Councilman Scott voted "no."

The Ross Town Council also:

1. Agreed to ask Woodbridge Metcalf, professor emeritus in forestry at University of California in Berkeley, to confer with the mayor about a proposed $500 survey of trees in Ross as storm hazards.

2. Voted 4-0 to grant Councilman William Peter McAndrews' request for a subdivision of 21-acre parcel on Canyon Road to allow him to buy a two-acre portion of the old Shell property for his home.

3. Put over to March 11 decision on application of Lido Artegiani to raise a one-story house and add a floor beneath it at 8 Fernhill Avenue. Neighbors objected that the proposed two-story house lacks setbacks and would cut off light and air.

The Alaska earthquake of 1964 was the strongest to shake North America since 1899.

Success Is Achieved By Retarded Youths

By FRANK FARRARA

A score of youngsters who would be failures in the usual school program are achieving success at Marin County's Magnolia Park School.

They are severely mentally retarded youths, gathered together in a school resigned to help them become working members of society.

The school, now housed in several rooms at the county farm, provides "experience in achieving rather than failing," according to Norman Hermstad, teacher.

Since the school year started, pupils have progressed to the point where they are building redwood plant boxes that they sell, and have constructed spice shelves.

Hermstad has designed a series of special devices that can be attached to power tools so they can be operated with safety by retarded pupils.

There are 20 pupils at the school ranging in age from 10 to 18 years.

"We are trying projects we hope they can pick up after they leave school," Hermstad said.

There is a maximum of activity at the school and a minimum of academic work, according to Hermstad and his wife, Ann. Pupils work outdoors hauling kindling wood, washing cars, raking lawns and gardening.

While the Hermstads supervise the pupils age 15 to 18, Mrs. Patricia Wolfe has a class of younger pupils who learn to follow directions and undertake what Hermstad described as "some academic work."

There is a dark room where they can develop and print pictures, a beauty shop where they learn grooming, and a lunch room where they learn to set tables.

The lunch room also doubles as a music room where they have singing sessions. "Their favorite song is "When The Saints Go Marching In," Mrs. Hermstad said.

As for social activities, the Junior Red Cross Chapter of Terra Linda High School has given parties for the pupils, Mrs. Hermstad said.

The Hermstads said the pupils have become "more independent" since the school year started.

Prior to this school year, the pupils were scattered several locations in Marin. The County Farm location was established as a temporary site. The Marin County schools office is seeking another site for the school.

Galanos Carries Out The Floral Motif

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la, breathe promise throughout the new collection of the California designer, James Galanos.

Galanos has carried the floral motif so far that even Gilbert and Sullivan might be tempted to celebrate further with song.

For instance: Spring's tulips are printed on luxurious silks; tulips, the real ones, are tucked into necklines fore and aft or shoved casually under wide, chiffon sashes; and, everywhere, there are floral prints, used in afternoon dresses and on into evening's floor length formals. Galanos is so print-conscious that the numerous chiffons in his dressy clothes include jungle florals and such as tiger, leopard and snakeskin replicas on the most floating of chiffons.

For nearly three hours, the Californian who sets a pace of style followed by a whole international set and copied right down to $8.95, showed his spring collection to buyers and reporters. Galanos traditionally brings his collection to New York for the grand opening — champagne at intermission, and what theater matches that!

In addition to the jungle print motif, there should be mentioned a group of Galanos floor length dinner dresses that are naturals for immediate copy—in less expensive fabrics. These are wide-spaced, long-stemmed flowers uncluttered by a bunch of leaves imprinted on a white background of textured silk. The silhouette: Long - sleeved, high-necked, and clinging to the figure from neckline to the floor. Not a single belt interrupted the long, slithery line.

The whole Galanos theme for spring and summer is one of soft look. Daytime skirts on both wool and silk suits were flat-pleated, front - paneled, or gored for a whirl when the models turned.

Floor length chiffon and organza sashes were tied around the natural waistlines of silk formals. Little girl smocking was a recurrent treatment at cuffs, on collars, even to shape whole bodices.

Romeo May Send A Love Message Electronically

NEW YORK (UPI) — The electronic valentine is here.

This year, many an enterprising young Romeo will observe St. Valentines' Day by taping a love message, perhaps with appropriate background music, to his Juliet.

The young lady merely puts the tape on a recorder and plays back the valentine.

It's a far cry from the first known written valentine which, according to researchers (Norelco), was composed by one Edward Sangon of London for an unidentified lady in 1684. Its message:

GOOD MORROW VALENTINE;
GOD SEND YOU EVER
TO KEEP YOUR PROMISE BE CONSTANT EVER."

Through the years valentines have taken many different styles and forms. Early greetings were made by hand, a favorite pastime in colonial America. Often they were elaborate affairs of intricate cut-outs.

Later valentines were published. One of the first producers was Esther Howland of Massachusetts, who may have originated the assembly line technique by having girls sit at long tables making the flowery, lace-trimmed messages of the 1850s. Valentines appeared in many shapes — as shadow boxes, miniature fireplace screens, fans or table decorations.

Brown Highway Stand Good; Local Elections Plan Bad

Gov. Pat Brown deserves a pat on the back for coming out solidly behind the State Highway Commission's authority over the routing and building of highways.

The highway commission is under fire from extreme conservationists who would strip the commission of some of its powers and give the park and recreation interests more say-so.

We believe the governor was dead right when he indicated at this week's press conference that diluting that authority would only lead to chaos.

"I really believe you have to vest authority of building these highways in a state highway commission," declared Brown. "I don't think you can subject it to any veto other than the one we have at the present time in cities and counties where . . . the legislative body can in effect kill it if they refuse to close the streets that are necessary for the freeway."

"I think you have to have one group that makes a decision in these matters . . . I don't go along with those people that have been criticizing this State Highway Commission."

We fully agree. If the final decision on highway routing and construction were to be left to more than one body, essential and much-needed highway construction could be held up for years. And if the conservationists were to get the upper hand in decision-making, the state wouldn't have a freeway left in its highway system.

California motorists would be winding around redwoods, and every nook and cranny that would "have to be preserved" for the aesthetic enjoyment of the public. Transportation would stagnate if certain extremists had their way.

Three cheers to the Governor for taking this forthright stand.

But in the next breath, the Governor launched into another field—partisan politics in local races like supervisors and city councilmen.

He gave support, more or less, to a proposed bill (by Assemblyman William Stanton) that would require partisan designation in local races.

"I think the country is better off when you have two strong parties in an area," said Brown. "And the cities and the counties are the places from whence the candidates come, and I see no reason why that bill would not be a good bill."

For that statement, we take back at least a couple of the "three cheers" just voted above.

Local government is one level which can and should be free from any taint of partisan politics. Supervisors and city councilmen should run, not because of party affiliation, but solely on their ability to best represent the interests of all citizens.

The Governor did add a saving sentence as an after thought, saying he would not actively work for the Stanton bill.

Nevertheless, a brickbat to the governor for suggesting any idea to bring partisan politics to local government.

Daphne — Delightful Fragrance

Of all Marin's flowers, to our way of thinking, daphne has the most delightful fragrance. In the garden one can smell it 30 feet away. Its fragrance fills any room. Yet, it is not a heavy scent.

Its small, purple and white blossoms are not particularly beautiful or showy, though taken as a whole, the daphne plant with its white-edged green leaves is quite attractive.

A fresh, sprightly fragrance, that's the most outstanding feature of this plant which is blooming now.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Splinter Groups Hurting GOP's Work For State Unity, Harmony

By WAT TAKESHITA

REPUBLICANS IN Marin and throughout the state, trying desperately to patch up internal differences and concentrate on attacking Democrats, are having no easy time.

They keep running into little obstacles from splinter groups that pop up here and there to make the news.

TAKESHITA

Fred Ullner of Larkspur and his "New Conservative Party" is being frowned on officially by all the major Republican leaders. But he has filed articles of incorporation and appears determined to go full steam ahead.

ONE OF THE main goals of his party, says Ullner, "is to provide an unrestricted public forum to fight Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel if he runs for Governor of California."

That's one group.

Leaders in the Goldwater-for-President drive of last year, meanwhile, are plugging their ultra-conservative organization, known as the Citizens for Constructive Action. This too has filed articles of incorporation in Sacramento.

In this group are Ronald Reagan and ex-Assemblyman Joe Shell.

Ullner is trying to grab Reagan into his own group and says so in no uncertain terms. "I don't see why he (Reagan) went in with such a bunch of stuffed shirts," says Ullner.

THEN THERE are a couple of men in San Diego who are bombarding the press to call attention to another "third party."

This one is called the American Party, with lawyer Oswald C. Ludwig and Dr. Jack Armstrong (both of San Diego) as co-chairmen.

They're trying to get 60,000 voters to register under the American Party by the end of this year so that the party can get on the ballot in 1966.

This proliferation of "third parties" certainly isn't contributing to the over-all Republican theme for this year—unity and harmony.

MARIN COUNTY is well represented on the approved list of the Republican State Executive Committee for 1965-66.

Gerald Misner, chairman of the Marin Republican Central Committee, points out with justifiable pride that "little Marin" has three members on the state executive committee —Sen. John F. McCarthy, Mrs. Lee Sherry and Misner.

Considering that San Francisco has only two on the executive committee, that's a pretty good showing.

IF MAYOR JOHN McInnis does not run for re-election, that could mean Dr. Charles Aby against Joseph Filippo for the top post.

But don't count the mayor out as yet. It's true he said he won't seek any post on the city council after this term, but they're preparing a testimonial dinner for him in the near future.

Who knows what will happen if a spontaneous "draft McInnis" movement is launched at the testimonial.

Hankins Is Called Exceptional Leader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Recently I was taking care of some Marin business and picked up one of your papers. To keep this short, I was appalled to read of the action of your Board of Supervisors in what sounded like an arbitrary dismissal of Mr. H. C. Hankins, Mr. George Scott and Mr. Edward Wachsman, all of whom had various times to finish their appointments on the Planning Commission. Of the three men I can speak with authority of Mr. Hankins.

The article left me concluding that aspersions had been cast as to the qualifications and ability of these men. I will address my comments to Mr. Hankins' ability and qualifications. . . .

He entered the Navy at an early age in World War I and was injured after having served two watches in the bitter cold, aboard ship in the North Atlantic during the flu epidemic. He has suffered from recurring osteomyelitis ever since. After peace was declared in 1921 and between successive hospital confinements for osteomyelitis, he pursued his education at New River State College in West Virginia, High Point College in North Carolina and Strayer's College in Washington, D. C. Later he attended the Uriah Barnes Law School, Charleston, West Virginia, Balboa Law School in San Diego and the University of California through their Extension Service. The latter schools were attended at night school while working a full schedule. Through those years he worked for FBI, Veterans Administration, Works Project Administration and the U. S. Navy.

At the outbreak of World War II, while working for the Navy, he was processed for a commission in the Navy. Osteomyelitis prevented this means of serving his country and the Navy was happy to put him back to work planning for, setting up and establishing the West Coast Naval Supply System. He was given the responsibility of planning, setting up, staffing and commissioning four big Navy depots. . . .

As the war ended Mr. Hankins was activating the Stockton Naval Supply Annex. He completed that job and retired from there as the chief civilian in 1959. During his years in Stockton, in addition to directing and planning the daily Navy operations, he was one of the moving forces in planning the development of the Delta Inland Waterways. He was Chairman of the Inland Waterways Committee which prepared the groundwork for the legislation that created the Small Craft Harbors Commission. . . .

I am sorry the people of Marin do not realize the exceptional leaders within their community because, without men like Mr. Hankins, they are the losers. How can citizens of Marin conscience the arbitrary actions of their Supervisors?

Who Is Paying Bill For SNCC Worker?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I read with interest your Feb. 8 story about Patricia Hansen, Sausalito's 19-year-old SNCC civil rights worker.

Under the sub-title "Federal Programs," it says that she will be working in Jackson on federal programs including soil conservation, federal housing loans, cotton crop allotments and welfare. This is truly an ambitious program for one so young. I am wondering what her qualifications and preparation for this work are. Since they are federal projects, I also wonder: By whom was she hired, is she paid by the government, or is she an unpaid, volunteer supported by SNCC?

Unity Not Very Good Cup Of Tea

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In 1773, England tried to force her tea on the colonies by giving her traders a tariff advantage over the colonial traders. The colonials retaliated by throwing this English tea into Boston Harbor at the famous "Boston Tea Party."

In 1965, the California State Board of Education is trying to force one-district elementary school unification on the citizens of southern Marin County, after they voted it down last summer. No "tea party" is necessary, however, now that Assemblyman Bagley has introduced legislation to correct this presumptuous action of the state board.

As long as Mr. Bagley is trying to correct the situation, the County Committee on School District Organization should not resubmit the one-district plan to the voters. It would be a slap in the face to the majority, whose position Mr. Bagley is trying to preserve. Besides, there will be a lot of "Indians" at the Feb. 15-17 hearings and most people like the way Richardson Bay now tastes.

SEN. ABRAHAM RIBICOFF has an explanation for snail-like proceedings in Congressional investigating committees. "They're like the mountaineer," says the Senator, "who sat on a tree stump with a gun across his knees. 'I'm paid to shoot them muskrats,' explained the mountaineer. 'They're undermining that dam over yonder.' 'There goes one now,' shouted the senator. 'Why don't you wing him-' 'Not on your life,' sniffed the mountaineer. 'You think I want to lose this job?'"

IN THE 20s, composer George Antheil startled the music world with his "Ballet Mechanique," which called for an orchestra that included two airplane propellers, six mechanical pianos, 12 big electric doorbells, 10 bass drums, and four tin washtubs to be beaten by croquet mallets. Ben Hecht, in his last book, "Letters from Bohemia," recalls the furor that greeted the premiere at Carnegie Hall. The catcalls of the audience almost drowned out the pandemonium on the platform. One music critic affixed a white handkerchief to his cane and waved it a token of unconditional surrender. Complained composer Antheil, "That critic had no right to do this. It was a very unconventional kind of behavior!"

PAUL TRAVERS complains that his wife no longer is satisfied merely to have the last word. Now she's taking him to Switzerland—so she can have the echo, too.

President Changes From Smooth To Rough And Then To Tough

WASHINGTON (AP) — From smooth to rough and tough.

That's the answer to those who have wondered, ever since Lyndon B. Johnson became president, how he would act in foreign affairs since he had far less experience there than in dealing with Congress.

AND PLENTY have wondered about it because through almost his entire presidency so far, with perhaps one big exception, he has operated in a rather low key in the foreign field, a sort of spreader of oil on troubled waters.

Luck helped him in this. There have been few truly disturbing events in the more than 14 months in which he got used to the presidency and was able to campaign and win election.

Suddenly this month he got rough and then tough. But anyone who knows the man knows he can quite easily switch back to smooth again. In that sense he is unpredictable.

THIS MAY or may not be valuable in dealing with other governments and unexpected challenges. But for several years, or until he is confronted with some more critical problems, Americans themselves will probably not be sure what Johnsonian reaction to expect in any given situation.

Not long after he took office there were anti-American riots in Panama. Johnson handled them with patience and this unpleasant beginning for him soon evaporated.

He got his first truly critical jolt last August when North Vietnamese PT boats attacked a couple of American destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin. He quickly ordered U. S. Navy planes to bomb some North Vietnamese coastal bases.

THIS WAS IN effect a lesson to the North Vietnamese Communists, as he soon explained to the American people. He said "acts of violence" against American armed forces "must be met not only with alert defense but positive reply."

That was just a short time before the Democratic National Convention and the presidential campaign began. For most of the campaign foreign events were nice enough to stay out of the way.

Their absence enabled Johnson to return to his smooth period. He wasn't at all belligerent in the campaign but then just before the end of it, on Nov. 1, the Vietnamese Reds kicked up again.

THIS TIME they plastered a U. S. Air Force base in South Viet Nam, killing some Americans, wounding others, and damaging or wrecking a lot of planes.

Instead of following up with what he had promised in August — that violence against American armed forces would be met with a positive reply—Johnson rolled with the punch, the campaign ended, and he was elected.

Yet, it seems clear now — because of what followed later — a decision was made then that if the Communists hit another American air base they'd get a very positive reply. They hit again but not until February.

JOHNSON got truly tough and carried out the promise he made last August when the Vietnamese guerrillas blasted another U. S. air base over the past weekend. Johnson ordered Navy planes to bomb some North Viet Nam installations.

This leaves the Reds guessing on how he will react to something else. But it will leave Americans guessing, too.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Johnson Works For Increased Red Trade

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson has made a remarkably grave decision on increasing trade with Russia and its Eastern European satellites.

He has decided to relax U. S. credit bars and grant "favored nation" trading rights to these Communist countries without first obtaining political concessions.

THIS HIGHLY controversial move is being acted on both in the administration and Congress, and will not be reversed except for a most unexpected and violent turn of events in U. S.-Soviet relations.

Yet only a tiny minority is aware of this portentous decision, let alone fully alerted that it will open the door to the Kremlin rulers to use large quantities of U. S. goods to intensify their "wars of liberation" in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

The president's total commitment to this policy is indicated by his still-unannounced plans to establish a 15-member "blue ribbon" council to create a public consensus for increasing trade with the Soviet bloc.

THIS RED-TRADE panel, to be composed of nationally known business, agriculture, labor and academic leaders, will probably be headed by Laurance Rockefeller, who bosses his family's giant network of foundations.

The president sounded him out on the council idea when Rockefeller recently reported to the White House on his exploratory trade trip to Russia.

Under the present administration proposal, the "blue ribbon" council will be given a blank check to "hold public hearings and conduct continuing studies to determine the methods by which trade and goods and services between the U. S. and countries within the Communist bloc can be expanded."

IT WILL BE authorized to secure directly from any executive department or agency all help and information, including classified intelligence estimates and statistical reports, needed to promote the expansion of this trade.

Since Congress has been the main roadblock to any across-the-board easing of trade restrictions on the Reds, the president's advisers are resorting to the strategy of making it appear the legislators are demanding this policy change.

To create this impression, White House aides have arranged to have Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.), who also favors trade with Red China, introduce a joint resolution calling on the president to establish a 15-member Council for Expanded Trade with the Soviet bloc.

THE PLAN is to slip the Magnuson resolution through the Senate and House with as little debate as possible, and then later hail this congressional authorization as an endorsement of the council's trade-increasing recommendations.

One of the most important of these, already drafted in the White House, will be the advocacy of a proposal by President Johnson to repeal the Johnson Act of 1934.

This act prohibits private U. S. citizens and firms from granting either long-term loans or credits to foreign governments in default on their debts to the U. S.

ACCORDING TO congressional sources, the president will send his repeal recommendation to Congress in a special trade message in March.

If approved by Congress, the proposal would clear the way for the U. S. to extend long-term credit to Russia without requiring payment of its World War II lend-lease debt.

ART BUCHWALD

After Short Try At Television Writing, It's Back To Column

BEVERLY HILLS—Not long ago I read a book called "Only You, Dick Daring," by Merle Miller, which was an expose of the television business, and the problems of getting a television pilot made. I thought it was an exaggeration until I got an idea for a television show myself and tried to get somebody interested.

My idea was to do a show called "Frontier Peddler" which was to be a series based on the peddlers who travelled through the West.

MY HERO, whom I wanted played by Edward G. Robinson, would have one thing going for him. Although his clothes were grotesque and he looked like a poor peddler, he was, in fact, a very fast man with a gun—he had to be to stay alive. But he had no reputation as a fast gun because no one wanted to admit they could be taken by a peddler.

In the meantime, he goes through the series doing good to everybody, saving people's homes, making chicken soup for sick children, shooting bad men, and bringing joy and philosophy to the world.

As soon as I developed the idea, I immediately took it to my agent, who got terribly enthused. "It's great. I can see Dick Van Dyke playing the peddler."

"I WAS THINKING more of Edward G. Robinson."

"Edward G. Robinson? You must be crazy. You have to have a young peddler, someone the audience can identify with.

"I'll set up an appointment with one of the major studios."

TWO DAYS LATER we met with the head of the studios. "It's great and it's different. But why don't we have two young peddlers instead of one, and they're always trying to get each other's girl and each week they have to help someone in trouble. I see it as a Western 'Sunset Strip.' In fact, we could have a third kooky fellow who takes care of their horses."

We got together with the network people—at least two of them—and I could see I grabbed them from the start. They liked everything about it, except that they had one suggestion.

"Why do they have to be peddlers?" one of the executives asked.

"WELL," I SAID, "I figured no one had ever done a series about peddlers before and it would be different."

"People don't care about peddlers. Suppose we kept the idea just as you have it, but instead of a peddler we make the hero a hired gun. We could get somebody like Jim Garner or Chuck Connors."

WE WENT TO another network and explained the idea. They loved it, but they had only one minor change.

At that moment I decided to give up the television business and stick with the column.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Tidal Wave Coming? Grab Some Grapes But Leave The Harp

What would you take if the sirens suddenly sounded a "tidal alert?"

Mrs. Ruth Cahoon of Muir Beach said when she and her family "escaped" to their neighbors recently in the early morning alert she took a guitar. Her three children took their library books.

In Sausalito Traute Plantz, who lives out over the water with her harp and a Russian samoyed, Oh Tchtionia, said, "Myself, I took a pair of golden boots that are very dear to me. I grabbed some jewelry and put it into the boots but left my most important papers behind."

Bill Montgomery, who lives in the same apartment, said, "Take some sandwiches."

TRAUTE SAID she got some ham sandwiches for Montgomery, some grapes for herself and took her dog. Victor Leavitt, another neighbor, took his most important thing, "our wedding pictures." Traute left her harp.

"Slue Cardwell, the fireman, guided us up the hill to the second fire station and coffee," said Miss Plantz. "He was wonderful."

Hoyt Barnett at Casserino's Fish Co., Sausalito, said, "There must have been 100 boats orbiting out here. We doubled up lines, put spring lines on the large boats and worked like beavers. We had radios on. For the tidal wave that never happened. We woke up people and sometimes got wrong numbers. 'This ain't my boat,' one man said. 'I ain't got no boat.'"

THE TOWN fire siren sounded at 2 a.m. in Stinson Beach. "Some people threw all their money and silverware in their cars and drove out of town," said Ruth Miller. "Most of them went up the hill and stayed with friends. Two friends came to our house and stayed from 2:30 to 5 a.m. Listened to the radio and sat and talked. What a good job they did of alerting everyone.

"I would like to get the word out that, if people come up from the beach, they should feel free to come into any house where lights are on. Everyone is willing to take people in. It's warmer than the car."

IN STRAWBERRY, Greenwood Cove and Bel Aire, where Alto firemen evacuated 500 persons to the seminary and Tiburon Hill Estates recreation hall, Chief Carl Heynen said "some took valuables. Some took clothes. One guy had his skis. They had dogs and cats. One Bel Aire man sandbagged the front doors of his store and doors of others." Afterwards, said Heynen, two persons telephoned to thank us and say how orderly the alert came off.

Granville Beedle and his wife, Carol, report that the trilium, or wake robin, is blooming in Mill Valley. This is important.

Danny Kelly, 19, of Mill Valley, said he took part in the Paul Goldin ESP performance the other night and described it thusly: "It's a lot like when you wake up in the morning. You hear the alarm go. You're half asleep and half awake. You're in a big drouse."

On stage, said Kelly, Goldin suggested he do things "I probably always wanted to do but wouldn't do otherwise. I was convinced I was Toscanini, the world's greatest conductor. I was convinced I was milking a cow and there wasn't any cow. I was back at the age of six months with dirty diapers and calling for my mother."

BRUCE SLOAN, Mill Valley contractor, and the only Buddhist anarchist we know, said he received 16 responses to his Independent-Journal ad for a housekeeper: "Vain unattractive older woman to cook for spry elderly gentleman."

He said he has made a contract with a 49-year-old who is "sharp," "fun" and a nudist. She is not creative or an artist but she can write. She cooked two meals already, said Sloan. "She hates TV. She will do cooking, keep the apartment clean and take care of all laundry. I'm to furnish food, cigarettes, wine."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Why A Second Ordinance Needed To Create Administrator Post?

FUSSELMAN

THIS ORDINANCE WHICH ATTEMPTS to give the county administrator, the so-called "most powerful figure in county government," life and death control over all department heads—both elected and appointed—falls flat on its face when the high sounding phrases are recognized as being just that and no more.

The ordinance was passed Nov. 24, 1964, and is numbered 1398. It starts out this way: AN ORDINANCE CREATING THE POSITION OF COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR, DEFINING THE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES THEREOF, AND PROVIDING FOR HIS APPOINTMENT OR REMOVAL.

Question—How can the office be created when it has been in existence since 1955? Ordinance number 788 was passed on Dec. 13, 1955, and was in full effect when this one was voted on. The 1955 one has not been repealed before passing this one, so there are two ordinances purporting to do the same thing—CREATE the position.

The 1955 one provided for a 10-day notice of dismissal. The 1964 one provides, ". . . he may not be removed except after at least sixty (60) days' written notice, and if he so requests, not until after a public hearing at the regularly called meeting of the Board of Supervisors."

AS I HAVE SAID before, Marin is a general law county governed by state laws. This is recognized in the ordinance of 1955 and again in this later attempt, by Section 7 then and by Section 5 of this one, as follows: ". . . No provision of this ordinance is intended to vest in the county administrator any duties or grant to him any authority which is vested by general law in any other county officer or employee." Yet the attempt is being made to ignore this very plain provision as follows: . . . Section 4(b) of this last ordinance gives the duties and responsibility of the administrator thusly: "He shall administer, supervise, direct and control the administration of all county offices, departments, and institutions, elective or appointive, in such matters that are the concern and responsibility of the Board of Supervisors."

NOW, THE DUTIES of all elected officials are set forth in full by state law, so there should not be any question that the administrator has no authority to regulate, control or supervise the manner in which these officers discharge the duties required of them by law. There are, also, numerous appointive offices which are regulated by state law and cannot be imposed upon. I feel strongly there should be no attempt to circumvent these very plain directives. There should be an authorization from the voters, but there is a strange reluctance to do this. More on this next Friday.

X-15 Pilot To Be Speaker At HAFB

Col. James H. Polve, director of the Air Force test center flight test engineering at Edwards Air Force Base, will be the other speaker. The 78th Fighter Wing will entertain its adopted Squadron 13 of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., visiting Hamilton.

home BUYERS in Central Marin are ALREADY living in Marin County by a ratio of more than 3½ to 1

(than from San Francisco)

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

• The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.

• And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, covering 2 out of 3 homes in the County!!

• The I-J daily circulation is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner Combined!!

• NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

home BUYERS in Northern Marin are ALREADY living in Marin County by a ratio of almost 5 to 1

(More than from San Francisco)

Latest Research* shows that 71.9% of home buyers in Northern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	71.9
San Francisco	14.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, covering 2 out of 3 homes in the County!!
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

RE-Duced
Yes, owners have moved and are very anxious to sell so have made this big reduction. A great value with large potential. Located on level knoll, ¼ acre, with numerous fruit trees, has beautiful view of bay — 3 bdrm. — 2 tile baths — an unusual kitchen — enclosed lanai and excellent pool site — also can assume $35,000 30-year loan. Lots of privacy. Call to see.

home BUYERS in Southern Marin are ALREADY living in Marin County by a ratio of more than 2 to 1
(than from San Francisco)

Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent - Journal, covering 2 out of every 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Discomfort Gradually Disappears For Victim Of Heberden's Nodes

VAN DELLEN

A woman with knobby lumps over the end joints of the finger wants to know: "I have arthritis of the fingers which seems to run in the female side of our family. My physician calls the condition Heberden's nodes and says nothing need be done. The little knobs become red and sore at times and my hands look terrible. What is the cause and what treatments are advisde?"

These little knobs first were described by an English physician, William Heberden (1710-1801). They represent a common form of osteoarthritis and usually affect the joints next to the fingernails. The disorder tends to run in families and most victims are women. Thickening of the bone at the edge of the joint causes the swellings.

THE VAST MAJORITY of Heberden's nodes result from degeneration, or wearing away of cartilaginous tissue. This is followed by development of bony outgrowths at the edge of the joint and in adjacent tendons and ligaments. Injury is another cause. A typical example is the athlete who is struck on the tip of the finger with a hard ball. Some professional baseball catchers end up with so many bumps on the fingers their hands look like gnarled limbs of a tree.

The little nodes are composed of bone except in the acute states when swelling consists of sacs containing a mucinous fluid. The joints are most sensitive and may remain tender for a few months to years. Discomfort gradually disappears, leaving no serious disability, except for some residual swelling and stiffness. This is not a progressive, crippling arthritis.

THE BEST REMEDY is heat. One method is soaking the hands in hot water or a paraffin bath. This is why dishwashing often is suggested. Hydrocortisone is beneficial when injected into the involved joints but this steroid is not recommended unless swelling and tenderness are marked.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SOFTENED BONES

M. M. writes: A woman with osteoporosis works as a hotel maid. Is this type of job (on her feet most of the day) dangerous for her condition?

REPLY

No. The bones soften in osteoporosis and the more active the person remains, the better. Dietary and hormonal treatment will help her overcome the deficiencies associated with the disorder.

EMOTIONAL DISORDER

J. F. writes: How does inorganic heart trouble differ from real heart disease?

REPLY

The inorganic stems from an emotional disorder. The heart is normal but the victim complains of palpitation, breathlessness, or chest pain. Symptoms mimic organic heart disease and may be more disabling.

STAPHYLOCOCCAL DISEASES

T. M. writes: We hear so much about staph infections. What are the symptoms?

REPLY

These bacteria cause felons, boils, pimples, sties, and impetigo on the surface of the body. Internally, they produce a variety of infections including blood poisoning, abcesses, meningitis, and encephalitis.

BREAKING SEDATIVE HABIT

H. T. writes: If a barbiturate addict wants to break the habit, is gradual withdrawal better than abrupt stoppage of the drug?

REPLY

No. A substitute drug such as a nonbarbiturate tranquilizer may be used as a temporary crutch.

'As You Like It' Scenes Planned

Excerpts from four scenes of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" will be presented at 2 p.m. April 3 and 10 by the children's drama group sponsored by the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

The scenes of the play have been double-cast to give all of the children a speaking role.

Children in the department's tiny tot program will give a demonstration of finger plays and songs prior to the April 3 play, and several ballet numbers will be given by students of Walton Dance Studio after the play.

Finalist Speakers

Three Tamalpais High School seniors will be finalist speakers in the Sausalito Lions Club speaking contest to be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the Alta Mira Hotel. They are, according to Lion Jack Perry, contest chairman, Joyce Williams of Fort Baker and Cathy Crain and Susan West of Mill Valley.

Odd Fellows To Hear Talk By Secretary

Charles H. Henderson, grand secretary of the Grand Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows, will speak at the Odd Fellows Temple in San Rafael at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The occasion for Henderson's speech is the annual roll call dinner of the Marin Lodge of IOOF. Henderson is expected to include in his speech a description of the Grand Lodge's new office building and lodge museum at Saratoga, Santa Clara County.

Music Club To Install

Tamalpais High School Music Club will install president Bill Spalding at a dinner Thursday. Other officers are Richard Caldwell, vice president; Leah Van Housten, recording secretary; Rebecca Parlett, corresponding secretary, Angi Spaid, treasurer, and Debbie Donaldson, historian.

Hawaii consists of eight major islands, seven inhabited, and 114 minor islands, four inhabited.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Morning's Mail Is Like A Trap

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — My wife says it is getting tougher and tougher each day to wake me up. She thinks it is psychological on my part. In general, yes. Specially, it is the black spell—the wanting to go back to sleep—that comes over me at the thought of having to read the daily press releases that bring the storylines of television shows. We all pay a price for our choices.

Mornings should be cheery, wholesome and full of optimism. Mine are like the last agonizing hour before the first cocktail. At the breakfast table, one reads: "McHale's Navy" for Feb. 16: "Captain Binghampton's wife pays a surprise visit to Taratupa Island while the captain is in the midst of producing a show starring exotic dancer Suzie Calyton."

It could be any show. And the press release writer is no less trapped by the absurd plotlines that must be processed through to the public. Every so often, however, a release comes through that lightens the burden all around, from the writer on down. For example, Saturday night ABC - TV will present a one-hour special called "The Way Out Men," about scientists and others who are helping shape the future, and a recent release dealt with a poetry-writing computer.

The computer will be seen in operation on the show. It is adjusted "to digest, and then use, basic English . . . with proper syntax; grammatically perfect sentences with a subject, verb and object." Unfortunately, "the sentences do not necessarily make sense." sample:

"Yes, we would, you shall,
Shall not I tighten a moose's parasite?"

THE CHANNEL SWIM: "The Pope and the Vatican," a one-hour special about the Catholic church in modern times, airs on NBC-TV March 9.

Easter Seal Drive Volunteers Sought

Volunteers are needed to stuff envelopes for the Easter Seal campaign, Dr. Christian Gronbeck, 1965 campaign chairman, announced today.

Smaller and more compact envelopes will be included in the annual mailing. Request for support will be on the return envelope rather than in an enclosed letter, he said.

Domino Game Winners Named

Gordon Walker and Don May were winners of the Marin Country Club men's domino tournament at the club Wednesday night.

During the process of elimination, Walker and May won over the 128 men playing in the tournament.

They were awarded a $100 entry fee in the Commercial Club of San Francisco's annual men's domino tournament. The winners there will be awarded two all-expense paid trips around the world.

Driving Plan Is Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state Board of Education voted approval yesterday of legislation to broaden driver education to everyone under 19.

The plan would allow high schools to set up a driver training course after school, Saturdays or in the summer, financed by traffic fines.

These courses would be opened to all persons under 19, regardless of whether they attend high school.

MARIN FILM FARE

'First Man In Moon' Seen

By LES DARD

Here's what's current and coming to Marin theaters this weekend:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Now showing is "First Man in the Moon," a light and amusing treatment of an H. G. Wells science-fiction story.

When a United Nations space team lands on the moon, they find that someone has already been there, and left a British flag claiming the land for Queen Victoria.

In a flashback, we learn what happened.

A mad scientist of the Victorian era built a space ship and painted it with a non-gravity substance. Then, 65 years ago, he took off from earth and landed on the moon, never to return.

But a neighbor couple he takes along does get back to earth and the husband, Edward Judd, recounts the tale.

"Ride the Wild Surf" is co-feature.

NOVATO THEATER

An interesting, and definitely adult, double bill will start here on Sunday.

"The Outrage," an unusual entry, stars Paul Newman, Claire Bloom and Laurence Harvey.

The film starts in a crumbling railroad station. A preacher, a prospector and a seedy con man discuss a trial just finished. We learn conflicting versions of the crime in flashback.

Newman, as a Mexican bandit, apprehends a traveling Southerner and rapes his beautiful wife. When the husband is killed, the bandit insists he did it in a fair fight. The wife says she killed her husband because he accused her of enjoying the interlude with the bandit.

Kim Novak plays the lead role in the co-feature, the third filming of Somerset Maugham's emotional novel, "Of Human Bondage."

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Back again and running from tonight to Sunday is "Irma La Douce," starring Jack Lemmon and Shirley MacLaine.

Billy Wilder's treatment of the hit musical eliminates the melody, but its story of a Parisian woman of the street who tries to abandon her trade, comes off most pleasurably.

Lemmon plays the beau.

The second feature is "McLintock!"

101 DRIVE-IN

A huge airliner that crashes minutes after a Los Angeles take-off, killing 53 persons, sets the stage for "Fate is the Hunter," running through tomorrow evening.

A meticulous investigation of the crash begins, with much incriminating evidence pointing to the dead pilot, Rod Taylor — who had a long standing reputation as a girl chaser and general play boy. The pilot's story is told in flashbacks.

His wartime Air Force buddy, Glenn Ford, risks his reputation and career to prove him innocent.

The co-feature is "The Disorderly Orderly."

SEQUOIA THEATER

Starting Sunday is "The Americanization of Emily," story of a confirmed coward during World War II who is ironically cast into the role of a hero.

James Garner plays an aide to a hare-brained admiral fighting his own private war with the Army. The setting is London, and the war is one of rank, privilege, booze and girls.

When the admiral becomes somehow convinced that Congress plans to scrap the Navy, he decides it will impress them if a sailor is "the first dead man on Omaha Beach."

Garner gets the job, and unfortunately doesn't stay dead.

LARK THEATER

A tongue-in-cheek thriller liberally spiced with slapstick adventure, "That Man From Rio" is held over again.

Theft of a priceless ancient South American figurine from a Paris museum touches off the kidnapping of the museum's director and a girl who knows the idol is the key to a buried treasure.

Jean-Paul Belmondo plays the girl's fiance who starts in hot pursuit, and leads an almost "Mad, Mad" chase from Paris to Rio to Brasilia.

FAIRFAX THEATER

An unusual film that offers some heart-rending moments, "One Potato, Two Potato" is held over here.

A young divorcee moves into an Ohio town with her small daughter and finds a sympathetic friend in a Negro coworker in her office.

After a while, friendship deepens into love, and after trouble with the Negro community, they wed and go to live on his parent's farm.

Although her child has found real happiness in the Negro home, the ex-husband comes into the scene demanding custody.

RAFAEL THEATER

Ian Fleming's intrepid James Bond of the British Secret Service strikes again — at one of the most evil geniuses of his hazardous career — in "Goldfinger," held over.

Auric Goldfinger is a powermad criminal whose lust for gold drives him to attempt to blow up the gold at Fort Knox, thus increasing the value of his own gold and bankrupting the United States.

The Motor Movies Drive-In remains closed.

DUE WEDNESDAY — Brian Keith and Vera Miles portray the proud independent outdoorsman and his wife in Walt Disney's latest Technicolor production "Those Calloways," opening Wednesday at the Rafael Theater.

Navy Air Training

Navy Aviation Cadet Richard S. Keefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Keefer of 121 Prospect Avenue, Sausalito, has reported for training at the Naval Air Station, Meridian, Miss.
